REFUGEES POUR INTO SHANGHAI
Scores of American Women and Children Arrive
Censorship Silences Reports on Pukow Mutiny
Russians Said to Hold 1000 Miners Prisoner

SHANGHAI, Dec. 9. (AP)—Seeking safety because of widespread revolt against China's Nationalist government, American and other refugees began arriving today at Shanghai, Hankow and other cities.
Seventy-five American women and children arrived here from Nanking with many refugees of other nationalities who fled from their homes due to the menace of the rebel forces marching from Peking to meet the Nationalist defenders of Nanking, the capital.
With wire communication severed by contending forces and dispatches censored, little was learned today of the Pukow mutineers, who, with ranks augmented by other rebels, were reported to number at least 30,000 stretched along the railroad to Peking. Two days ago their advance was reported to have gained success in a sharp skirmish with Nationalists at Wuyi, thirty-five miles northwest of Nanking.

WOMEN TAKE BOAT
On advice of their consuls, American and other foreign women took boats for Shanghai from the capital city, the decks of the boats being piled high with their trunks, boxes and bundles.
At Ichang, nearly 1000 miles inland on the Yangtze River, other foreign women and children boarded six foreign gunboats and fled from the city, where rebels and Nationalist troops fought for control.
An American cruiser, the Pittsburgh, and six destroyers left Manila for Shanghai, after Rear-Admiral Charles B. McVay declared that it was the routine duty of the United States Navy to protect American life and property whenever endangered.

TOWN STARVING
Turned rebel, Gen. Tang-sung-chi, former leader of Nationalist armies in Hunan Province, was reported to be mobilizing 30,000 men in the north of that province, preparatory to marching upon Hanchow, Wuhan and HanYang, chief commercial ports of Central China.
A dispatch from Mukden to a government news agency asserted that soviet troops had imprisoned 1000 Chinese miners at Chialanor, Manchuria; that the Chinese population of Manchuria was near starvation because of soviet refusal to permit anyone to leave that Manchurian western border city, and that on the eastern boundary of Manchuria, soviet airplanes had inflicted some damage upon Japanese ships. These warlike activities were said to be said some days after the Russian and Chinese envoys had agreed to a protocol for amicable settlement of the Chinese Eastern Railway dispute in Manchuria.

KUOMINTANG REPORTS PRESIDENT CHIANG OUSTED
SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 9. (AP)—The Chinese Nationalist daily, influential Chinese-language newspaper published here, told the Associated Press tonight that it had been informed that President Chiang Kai-shek of China had not only been ousted but that the left wing of the Kuomintang had demanded that his entire organization be removed and the widely known revolutionary Wang Ching-ling be made chief executive as the price of peace in the Far Eastern Republic.
The information, the newspaper said, came in semi-official press dispatches from Kuomintang (People's party) leaders in Canton and Nanking.

CHICAGO, Dec. 9. (AP)—William Arndt, 40 years of age, former inmate of a Los Angeles insane asylum, was recommended held to the grand jury today by a coroner's jury for the murder of Mrs. Joseph Ford at whose home he was a boarder.
Mrs. Ford was found dead in her apartment Saturday, her throat cut.

BEET AND PEACH CROP FUNDS APPLIED FOR WASHINGTON, Dec. 9. (Exclusive)—California sugar beet growers and peach raisers have applied to the government through Representative Fred of San Jose for reimbursement of $200,000 for research work to benefit their crops.

ship, determined to wait until the fire rendered it impossible to remain aboard, then to jump into the water. They found a wounded Indian guard huddled in the ship's stern and rendered him all the aid possible.
From their position, Mrs. Campbell said, they had a clear view of the men manning the ship's mainmast. The ship's siren blowing full blast in the hope of attracting any passing vessel, only added to the terrifying din.
Mrs. Campbell said they saw a Chinese man, a Chinese mother, later was found tightly clinging to her baby with one hand and holding onto a plank with the other. Both were saved. Another lifeboat, empty, floated on the waves, while heads of dozens of persons bobbed around it, all trying to save themselves.

DESTROYER TO RESCUE
"To our immeasurable relief," said Mrs. Campbell, "the blackness of the night was pierced by the flash of a searchlight and soon out of the darkness emerged the gray hull of the British destroyer speedboat, which was ordered to the rescue. A few minutes later the lifeboats clambered up the sides of the Hatching, while the destroyer steamed close within a few feet of the boat, playing a searchlight on the flames."
The fire quickly was controlled. The three women were taken to a lifeboat in the Sterling, which brought them to Hongkong.

WOMEN PASSENGERS FORMERLY LIVED HERE
A report from Hongkong of the safe arrival there of Mrs. George Campbell and her two daughters, Louise and Dorothy, following an attack by Chinese pirates on a British steamer on which they were passengers, was received with joy by friends and relatives in Los Angeles yesterday.
Mrs. Campbell is the wife of Rev. George Campbell and, with her husband, has been engaged in Chinese missionary work for the Baptist Church for nearly thirty years. She and her husband once lived here, and Mrs. Campbell returned here for a visit about three years ago.
Friends believed Mrs. Campbell and her daughters were fleeing from swarms in Southern China, where they lived, and which has been under rebel threats of a serious nature. Mrs. Campbell, Mrs. J. W. Moncrie, lives here.

MASS LOUIS CAMPBELL
Miss Louise Campbell has been in China aiding her parents in their missionary work for about fourteen years. Miss Dorothy Campbell entered China three years ago when she returned there with her mother following Mrs. Campbell's visit here. Dorothy is head nurse at the South Memorial Hospital at Swatow.

ANOTHER DAUGHTER, Mrs. Margaret Burket, is living at Sun Wu, China, with her husband, Rev. Everett Burket, also a Baptist missionary. Mr. Burket has been in China about eight years. A year ago he returned to Glendale, where his wife was living with their three children, hoping to take them back to China with him when an outbreak of revolutionary activity forced him to return, leaving his family at Glendale, however. Last August with a cessation of military activities, Mrs. Burket sailed for China. The three children are in missionary schools at Sun Wu.

WORLD COURT PACT SIGNED
The World Court participation from the outset voiced approval today of the modification of the Senate reservation, which was worked out last spring by Elihu Root with a committee of international jurists. This modified reservation, which in its original form was not accepted by the world powers, now has been approved by the other nations through the League of Nations Assembly.

DELAY HELD LIKELY
There was feeling in the Senate that Mr. Hoover might withhold the proposed question until perhaps next session, in view of previous statements in administration circles that the President wanted each of the other nations to ratify it before submitting it to the Senate.
The reservation in question was proposed by Senator Evans, Democrat, Virginia, and stipulates that the court should render no advisory opinions in which this nation has or claims to have an interest without the consent of this government.

COURT DISBARS JUDGE LINDSEY
The case was settled out of court by agreement.
Lindsey contended that the "gift" he had received from Mrs. Stokes had been approved by the Probate Court, which was a legal transaction. He claimed that when he had received the money, as well as the $10,000 received from Undermyer, his beneficiaries refused to take it back.
Stokes died in New York in 1926. "Gifts" the Supreme Court's opinion on the case was that the Probate Court's decision was not binding on the federal court, which had jurisdiction of the case.

Gigantic Strike Finances Voted
CLEVELAND, Dec. 9. (AP)—A strike fund of $600,000 for a two-year period was authorized by delegates to the annual convention of the International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union in session here today.
By unanimous vote the convention went on record authorizing the union to collect $5 a year for two years from the 85,000 members of the organization. A small part of the fund, which will run slightly more than $600,000, will be used to clear indebtedness of the union.

WILBUR ISSUES POWER PROTEST
Upper-Basin Note Published Without Comment
Proposed Price of 1.63 Mills Declared Too Low Asserted Unfairness to Industries Cited

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9. (AP)—Secretary Wilbur made public without comment today the letter from the Colorado River conference of the upper basin States protesting against the proposed price of 1.63 mills per kilowatt hour for Boulder Dam power and asking him to call in an advisory commission.
The letter resulted from the two-day conference of upper-basin commissioners last week in Denver. The advisory commission, requested in the letter, was provided for in the Boulder Canyon act.
The commissioners of the four upper basin States, Colorado, New Mexico, Utah and Wyoming, declared that a lower price for power than a competitive market would place the Federal Government in the position of "favoring one section, to wit, Southern California, in opposition to other sections, for instance, Utah, Nevada and Arizona, whose industries would be subjected to unfair competition with the favored industries in California."

What other gift could possibly bring such happiness and joy to your family?—not alone Christmas day—but for years and years to come—the charm, the beauty, the glorious tone and main undimmed. Slightly higher in price, but obviously the wiser piano investment, who considers the superior quality—the exclusive construction features of the Mason & Hamlin—the longer period of brilliant service.

SLAIN LINGUIST'S LOVE LIFE TOLD

Illinois Police Seek Motive
in Teacher's Murder

Many Suitors of Woman Now
Under Investigation

Hollywood Dentist Virtually Cleared by Authorities

ROCKFORD (Ill.) Dec. 9. (Exclusive)—The many loves of Cordella Gummshelmer, head of the languages department of the Rockford High School, were unfolded today at the investigation into her murder. The woman, 35 years of age, comely, a brilliant linguist and a popular figure in social life here, was found dead in bed in her apartment Sunday night, her skull crushed.

Although State's Attorney Knight and the police in their search for the murderer found that the insults she had known many men, they were no nearer a solution of the crime tonight. The theory of robbery was definitely discarded when jewels and money were found in the apartment.

LOVE ANGLE SCANNED
There remained only the theory that the slaying was the result of a love quarrel and the investigators confronted themselves completely puzzled.

Dr. Floyd Dewitt Leach, dentist, who left Los Angeles, and a prosperous business eighteen months ago after being separated from his wife, remains the central figure in the tragedy. He is still held in custody, although police said they are practically convinced that he knows nothing about the crime.

Dr. Leach is one of the unique figures of this city. A cultured man, who quoted Vergil to an interviewer, he lives in desperate poverty in a rude hut surrounded by his dogs. He maintains a dental practice in an office in the building adjoining the apartment-house where Miss Gummshelmer was slain.

DID NOT KNOW HER

He maintained that he had never heard of the school-teacher.
Glenn Wiseman, now of Taper Spring, Pa., who became engaged to the woman when she was teaching in Porto Rico eight years ago, was another whose name entered the inquiry. According to the story told Prosecutor Knight, Miss Gummshelmer broke off her engagement to Wiseman, but there was a reconciliation in Chicago in October when they attended the world series together. Wiseman admitted in a telephone conversation with the State's Attorney of seeing his former fiancée at the time, but denied they had again become engaged.

Leach, interviewed in the County Jail, proclaimed himself an innocent victim of bad luck.

QUOTES CLASSICS

"Odium is quick to attach itself to a man like me," he said. "You know, Vergil says that Rome's long streets sweep the dust and that all the filth she gathers she loves to shake loose."

"Then he dropped a remark, which seemed the provocation to murder."
"You say she was killed with an iron pipe?" he queried with interest.
"Do you know, a pet dog of mine was killed with a pipe by some mysterious person three weeks ago, and that murderer left the pipe by the body as did this one. Maybe the slayer in each case was the same person."

The dentist is a small, gray-haired man, apparently about 40 years of age. He said he was 41. He was slain in hunting attire, mackinaw and overalls tucked into high leather boots, when arrested.

In his car were the bodies of "three dead dogs and a cat. In his pocket was a dead mouse. He said he planned to skin the animals and make carpets out of the skins."

DENTIST'S RECORD IN HOLLYWOOD TOLD

Dr. Floyd D. Leach, former prominent Hollywood dentist, held in Rockford, Ill., in connection with the iron pipe slaying of Miss Cordella Gummshelmer, was examined in Los Angeles to determine his sanity on December 29, 1927, by Dr.
Aron J. Rosenoff, alienist. It was learned from Dr. Rosenoff last night.

The dentist practiced at 6404 Hollywood Boulevard and is reported to have numbered among his patients many persons prominent in motion pictures.

Mrs. Alice Leach, the dentist's paralyzed wife, now is under a nurse's care in Glendale and his two children, Campbell, 16 years of age, and Betty, 14, are under the guardianship of Mrs. Leach's sister, Mrs. Philip E. Zeiss, 938 Orange Grove avenue, Burbank.

WIFE INVALID

Mrs. Leach, an invalid for fourteen years, used her husband for divorce in October, 1927, thirteen months after the couple separated, according to David A. Parris, attorney for Mrs. Leach.

It was charged in the complaint that Dr. Leach was habitually intoxicated and treated his wife with extreme cruelty. Dr. Leach filed a cross-complaint, but Judge Yank-with nally acted on an amended brief asking for separate maintenance and Mrs. Leach was awarded $200 a month.

It was Dr. Leach's failure to pay this that caused Blayney Matthews, assistant chief investigator of the District Attorney's office, to go to Rockford last summer in an attempt to extradite Dr. Leach. The dentist had sold his Hollywood business following his marital troubles,
spent some time at a desert resort,
then went to Chicago and later to Rockford.

HOLLYWOOD DENTIST REFUTES SUSPICIONS

ness following his marital troubles,
spent some time at a desert resort,
then went to Chicago and later to Rockford.

The extradition matter is pending a decision by Circuit Court Judge Fisher in Rockford, scheduled for January 6, next, Matthews stated.

Mrs. Zeiss, legally appointed guardian of the two Leach children, declared that Dr. Leach has paid only $4 for the support of his wife and children since he went east. She said that before he left he had threatened the lives of the entire family and that Mrs. Leach remained in constant fear of him.

Mrs. Leach was not informed of her husband's plight, as her condition is considered too critical.

Danger of Pest Spreading

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Dec. 9. (Exclusive)—President Hoover and the Budget Bureau today sent to Congress a recommendation for an appropriation of $15,381,000 to carry on the eradication campaign against the Mediterranean fruit fly in Florida during the next fiscal year.

This is a considerable reduction from the $26,000,000 figure which Secretary of Agriculture Hyde announced several months ago before a subject that had occupied thousands of words in the newspapers—the famous Wall street liquor party brought to the attention of the Senate by Senator Brookhart of Iowa.

Reporting that it had insufficient evidence to indict, the jury said it had heard various witnesses, but had deemed that the lack of evidence "together with extraordinary lap of time between the asserted

CAMERA BACKS BYRD'S REPORT

Films of Epochal Flight to Pole Tell Story

Party Fascinated by Record of Amazing Trip

Difficulties and Perils of Journey Evidenced

BY RUSSELL OWEN

(Copyright, 1935, by Los Angeles Times. All rights reserved. Reproduction in whole or in part prohibited.)

LITTLE AMERICA (Antarctica)
Dec. 9. (Exclusive)—The surveying photographs taken on the eastern flight when the new range of mountains was discovered running north and south along the edge of Marie Byrd Land have been developed. Men worked on them all night. The last long roll of film is now on the reel being dried. The work was done under difficulties, but it is to be finished before the film could be sent back through the tropics lest the heat should spoil some of the undeveloped film.

While the apparatus was being made ready for developing these rolls and the film taken in mapping the bay, the rough preliminary photographs made in the polar flight were being examined with interest by Commander Byrd and other members of the expedition.

PHOTOS FASCINATING

They are fascinating. They trace the flight through the mountains, up the deep gorge of the glacier, where the walls at times seem only a few feet away from the plane, show the rising surface of the barrier beneath coming closer and closer, which necessitated throwing overboard food to lighten the plane, and then the final hump over which the plane staggered to the long slope of the plateau.

The scenery is magnificent, great peaks rising above the plane, cloaked with snow except their black, precipitous sides are too steep to hold it, with rivers of ice pouring down between them—a jumbled mass of mountains as impressive as any in the world—running along the edge of the interior plateau.

RECORD OF TRIP

As the plane went southward from the mountains a point where it entered the plateau, the photographs, taken at intervals so that they overlap, show the mountains stretching to the east and gradually curving north until the plane reached the interior of the polar plateau. Here the mightiest of the peaks disappear below the horizon and there was only a limitless plain beneath with a few landmarks or guide except the sun and the magnetic compass.

On the way south the plane picked up the range of mountains between Amundsen's trail and Scott's, and then the new range on the interior edge of the plateau to the west, which had never been seen before. Then came the Axel Heiberg Glacier with its steep sides and broken and crumpled surface, the tops of mountains easily recognizable like those of Ruth Radio Mountains and the dominant mass of Don Pedro Christensen.

PICTURESQUE PEAKS

Along the foot of the mountains on the way back the pictures of some magnificent and picturesque peaks and glaciers were all the more impressive from this point as they rose out of the low level of the barrier like an almost impenetrable bulwark.

Nothing could so well make clear the difficulty of this flight as these photographs. The whole trip to the pole can now be brought home to anyone when these strips are combined with the ones from Little America to the mountains taken on the last flying flight. And there is such astounding mountain scenery that everyone has been poring over them with exclamations of delight.

Pilot and Girl Killed in Fall

STAMFORD (Tex.) Dec. 9. (AP)—Pilot Cotton Hansen, 30 years of age, and his 20-year-old passenger, Miss Winnie Williams, were killed to death in the wreck of Hansen's plane here yesterday, while Miss Williams' escort, who had pleaded with her to forego the ride, watched her plunge to her death. Spectators said the plane was flying low when it fell.

CONN CITES DRY PROBLEM

Says Grape Growers Must Accept Responsibility for Compliance With Prohibition Law

FRESNO, Dec. 9.—Acceptance by an organized grape industry of responsibility for compliance with the national prohibition law and development of a world-wide demand for California grape products are the principal media upon which the industry must rely for a solution of its problems, Donald D. Conn, managing director of the California Vineyardists' Association, says in his annual report to the directors, which was made public here today.

"The facts of research show conclusively that a solution to the problem depends upon developing world demand for by-products," Conn says. "This channel of manufacture and consumption should be utilized as an equalizer to the fresh and dried markets. This is especially true in the relationship of canned fruit to the fresh market. In the form of by-products, grapes and fruit can be held in suspension in a year of apparent surplus and be available to meet demand at stabilized prices during periods of shortage."

"As a growers' organization this co-operative has been pledged the support of both the Treasury Department and the Federal Farm Board. Offers have been made to absorb other by-product units within and outside the State of California," he said, referring to Fruit Industries, Inc., the by-products organization.

"The grape grower with the knowledge that all varieties of grapes, whether table or juice, may be and are actually used for juice purposes, must be in a position through organized control over the distribution of his product to meet the requirements of prohibition legislation and the rulings of governmental agencies. Grapes are a legal product, providing they are not

FIVE HUNDRED VISIT HOOVER

President Has Busiest Reception Day Since Discontinuing of Handshaking

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9. (AP)—Nearly 500 persons crossed the threshold to President Hoover's private offices today, providing the greatest activity at the White House since the practice of admitting public handshaking groups was discontinued.

During the three hours devoted to callers, the President discussed a wide range of questions, heard petitions for candidates seeking offices, greeted distinguished foreign visitors, listened to reports from executive department heads and welcomed a high priest from Japan bearing a gift of a beautiful tapestry.

The largest single group was a delegation of women representing the National Woman's party, who petitioned Mr. Hoover to support the view that there should be no distinction based on sex with respect to world-wide nationality practices. The President stood at his desk while spokesmen for the group read prepared statements.

In another large group was the British Ambassador, Sir Samuel Hoare, who presented members of the British Empire Service League, including the distinguished blind soldier, Capt. Sir R. Beuchcroft Town, twice presented with the Victoria Cross.

Perhaps the most picturesque of Mr. Hoover's visitors was a high priest from Japan, who came with a letter of introduction from the Japanese Ambassador. He was clad in a brilliantly embroidered garment and carried under his arm a beautiful tapestry depicting mercy and wisdom.

Governor Saves Doomed Youth

OKLAHOMA CITY, Dec. 9. (AP)—Ted Cole, 17-year-old boy who was sentenced by Judge Saul Yager of the Tulsa county District Court to die December 31 for robbing with firearms a bottling works plant at Tulsa, will not be executed, nor will he be required to serve a life sentence for the crime, Gov. Holloway said today.

Issuing a reprieve of six months to allow Cole time for an appeal to the Criminal Court of Appeals, Gov. Holloway ordered Dr. J. Q. Newell, warden of the State penitentiary, to remove Cole from death row.

Ford to Face Junkers Suit

MADEBURG (Germany) Dec. 9. (AP)—The Magdeburg Zeitung today says that the Junkers Airplane Works at Dessau, has decided to start legal action against the Ford Airplane Company for asserted infringement of Junkers patents taken out in most of the principal countries for construction of all-metal airplanes.

It is said that proceedings will be started in Spain for alleged violation of these patents. "These are for mounting motors on wings of planes, special construction of plane bodies and all-metal construction."

Arizonans Urge New Worm Curb

PHOENIX, Dec. 9. (AP)—The Arizona Protective Association, an organization having as its purpose eradication of the pink boll worm, tonight adopted a resolution asking the Federal government to establish a motion picture wherein the worm has been found. Under the action requested by the resolution, cotton could not be grown in infested areas until proof has been presented that the worm had been destroyed.

The pink boll worm recently was discovered in several thousand acres of cotton in the Salt River Valley.

SAN FRANCISCO SPAN SURVEY FUND VOTED

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 9. (AP)—An appropriation of $40,000 for a survey to determine the best location for a bridge across San Francisco Bay, was voted by a board of Supervisors here today. The appropriation will make possible borings in the bay's bottom to determine what sites could best support the bridge, and will also permit a study of traffic convergence to determine the most strategic site for the span.

DAWES SPEAKS AT ARMS DINNER

London Address Heard by Notable Company

Says Conference Meets in New Diplomacy Era

Preliminary Preparations Unprecedented

LONDON, Dec. 9. (AP)—Disarmament was the subject of discussion tonight at a dinner of the English-speaking Union, at which United States Ambassador Charles G. Dawes was guest of honor. Lord Reading presided and about 250 prominent persons were present.

A. V. Alexander, First Lord of Admiralty, told the assemblage that "there is nothing wanting on this side of the Atlantic in the hearts and minds of a great mercantile seafaring people toward singleness of purpose for world disarmament."

Gen. Dawes in his address on the new diplomacy said:

"The coming naval conference meets in a period of a new diplomacy and with a recognition of the value of its methods. At that conference able men in high authority of the different nations will personally participate."

"With joint realization of the value of contracts and of frank discussion of difficulties, informal preliminary negotiations have been for a long time and are now in progress. The conference will meet, therefore, after perhaps as thorough preliminary consideration of the best methods of approach to its problems as have ever been had in similar gatherings."

Senate Also Gives Attention to Island Outbreak

State Department Informed of Prevailing Calm

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9. (AP)—While administration anxiety over disturbances in Haiti was allayed by word that quiet has been restored, the policy toward the island republic was attacked and defended today in the House.

Senate attention also was directed to the situation for the first time since the recent outbreaks. Senator Shipstead, Farmer-Labor, Minnesota, approved President Hoover's special message to Congress about it, and expressed hope that the proposed commission of inquiry will not be appointed "for whitewashing our acts there."

The House debate was by way of preparing for consideration of the Porter resolution to name the commission suggested by the President to go into the Haitian question. Chairman Porter said the Foreign Affairs Committee will meet Friday to consider his resolution, to decide whether it will recommend House adoption.

PRESIDENT ASSAILED

Representative Huddleston, Democrat, Alabama, assailed President Hoover for not taking steps since he has been in office to prevent the recent disturbances. Conceding that President Hoover in-

TALKING PICTURE ROUTS TORTURING ROBBER TRIO

NEW YORK, Dec. 9. (AP)—Voices from a talking picture today prevented the robbery of a Brooklyn theater and probably saved the life of a watchman.

The watchman was being tortured by robbers in view of his father in an effort to make the latter reveal the combination of the office safe when the "talkie" scared the intruders away.

Three robbers entered the B. F. T. Theater in Brooklyn, overpowered Edward Jones, a watchman, and when his son Charles, also a watchman, went to look for his father they overpowered and disarmed him.

Strapping the two men in orchestra seats one of the robbers placed a cord around the younger man's neck and started to draw it tight. "You tell us the combination of the safe," they demanded of the elder Jones. "I don't know it," the father replied.

The robbers gave another twist to the cord. Just then a faint sound of voices was heard. One of the robbers opened the door to the manager's office and the voices became louder. Frightened, the men ran to an exit and escaped.

Releasing themselves from their bonds the two watchmen investigated. Far back on the stage they found electricians working on the "talkie" mechanism which had been out of order. Their work completed the electricians had put on a test disk, which had reproduced the voices.

The 500 marines en route to Haiti, to reinforce the 700 there, may not be landed unless conditions make it necessary.

HAITIAN LEADERS SAY TROUBLE ALL OVER

PORT-AU-PRINCE, Dec. 9. (AP)—At the end of more than forty-eight hours of perfect calm throughout the republic the authorities are convinced tonight that quiet had been restored. Martial law is still in force in the cities, but is evidenced only by light trucks carrying marines from point to point.

President Louis Borno issued a manifesto to the people at noon today in which he said the most recent disorders were caused by ambitious persons who sought to force a change in government for their own personal benefit. He praised the American forces for the manner in which they had performed their duties under the treaty with Haiti.

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Dec. 9. (Exclusive)—Representative Evans of Glendale won his fight today for the establishment of a government chemical laboratory at Los Angeles when the House Committee on Appropriations inserted in the agricultural appropriations bill an item calling for $20,000 to build and maintain the proposed unit.

The original appropriation agreed upon this morning by the members of the subcommittee holding hearings on the agricultural bill was for $15,000. But appearing before the subcommittee for the fifth time on the matter Mr. Evans convinced its members that at least $20,000 was required for the project.

The laboratory will carry on governmental tests for customers and health officials throughout Southern California. It will settle technical questions involving the Pure Food Act and customs classifications.

Shipments entering Los Angeles Harbor subject to chemical analysis will no longer be delayed while specimens are sent to San Francisco, the nearest government laboratory, for testing.

A Man Only Weighed 119 Lbs. Now Weighs 138

The difference between Sargon and all other medicine I have taken in the past is that the effects of Sargon are lasting! When I finished the treatment last June, I had and, exactly 12 months, all my troubles were over—and I haven't had to take Sargon or any other medicine since!

I'm a bricklayer by trade, and I tell anybody it's no job for a man that is sick and run down like I was before I started Sargon. I worked for 10 years with a slow motion, constipation and indigestion, and my salt bladder pained me almost continually. My kidneys were weak and it was nothing unusual for me to get up six or seven times in one night. I lost so much weight and was so tired that it was all I could do to keep up and going. Gases would come on after meals and my stomach would burn and pain so much that I almost dreaded to go to the bathroom.

I was as nervous as I could be for hours rolling and turning. Morning I was tired and I felt like laying back or doing anything else much. I was miserable. I thought I couldn't do any more of them. Many a time after work and after I got home I didn't want to go anywhere but sit around. No matter how I tried to stretch my legs or get my limbs straightened out, and I was beginning to think my troubles would surely get the best of me. Then I commenced to read so much about Sargon that I decided to try it. I am mighty glad I did.

I have taken 12 bottles now, eat and sleep in the world I want with my stomach trouble, my nerves and I feel almost like a new man. My nerves have been calmed, my kidneys and gall bladder don't worry me and I sleep sound. Now I go on the job with a head of steam and lay brick with the best of them!

Sargon Pills straightened out my whole system, and I tell anybody to try it. Just tell anybody to try it and I'll be glad to tell them what I think about this wonderful Sargon treatment.

The above statement was recently made by Lindsey E. Burbridge, a bricklayer of 4910 S. Figueroa, Los Angeles. He is a member of the American Legion.

Sargon may be obtained at all drug stores.—(Advertisement.)

YOUNG FAVORS RADIO CONTROL

Overseeing of Wires Also Put Up to Congress

Testimony Given in Quiz on Couzens Bill

Parity of Communications Called Important

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—The responsibility for maintaining American supremacy in international wire and wireless communications, pulse of America's foreign trade, today was placed bluntly and directly upon Congress by Owen D. Young, called here to testify in connection with the Couzens bill.

The bill itself has two major propositions: One, government regulation or control of the transportation of electrical energy from one place to another, and the other, government control of international communications.

Referring to that part of the bill which relates to international wire and wireless communications, the chairman of the board of General Electric Company, who is chairman also of the Radio Corporation of America, told the Senate Committee on Interstate Commerce this afternoon that this country has no alternative but to permit a unification of its international, if not its domestic, cable and radio facilities, either under government ownership or under private ownership with government regulation and control.

INDONES PART OF BILL
Such a unification of facilities now is provided by the radio act. A portion of the act, providing for cable-radio competition, is the element which has prevented the Radio Corporation of America from selling its world-wide radio system to the International Telephone and Telegraph Company, which now competes with Western Union in the submarine-cable field besides competing with the Radio Corporation of America.

Mr. Young intimated that part of the Couzens bill relating to government control of international communications, declaring that regulation is necessary and desirable. He expressed public ownership in principle, saying that he does not believe the time has come to turn over either domestic or international communications system to the government.

AS TO COMMUNICATIONS
But he insisted that one or the other course of action must be taken by the United States government in the interest of self-protection as well as efficiency.

Since the Senate committee is inquiring into all phases of radio, the first questioning of Mr. Young was confined to communications. At the outset there was considerable wrangling among members of the committee about the propriety of certain questions propounded by its special counsel, William C. Green, and by Senator Dill. These questions had to do with assertions by Mr. Young and other officials of the Radio Corporation of America that the late Admiral W. H. G. Bullard, at the direction of President Wilson, asked the General Electric Company ten years ago to retain certain radio patents in hand and enter the communications field itself rather than sell them to the British Marconi Company, then operating America's big international communications system.

ANSWERS QUESTION

The repeated assertion of this, it has been charged, is unfair competition in that it insinuates that the Radio Corporation of America was organized under government auspices. After all the Senatorial wrangling was over, Mr. Young answered the question by stating flatly that Admiral Bullard had informed him that he had come at the request of President Wilson, who was favored government operation had preferred to rest that matter of policy with Congress.

The communications problem arises, according to Mr. Young, from the fact that the British recently united their formerly competing world-wide cable and radio systems, and that Germany, France, Italy and Japan have either unified or are in process of unifying their respective international services. "If we do not do the same, he told the committee, America's scattered and competing services will be held at the mercy of domination by foreign companies, practically all of them government-owned and operated monopolies."

Parity, gentlemen, is important to the United States in more fields than warships. In none more so than communications," Mr. Young said.

CASH DRAFT IN WARTIME ADVOCATED

Amendment Proposed for Constitution to Remove Profit from Conflict

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9. (AP)—An amendment to the Constitution to permit the drafting of capital and industry by the government in time of war is proposed in a resolution prepared by Representative Patman, Democrat, Texas.

Patman said the object of the proposed amendment "is to permit Congress to pass laws taking the profit out of war."

"The American Legion cannot carry into execution its plans to take the profit out of war until this amendment is adopted," he said. "Under our present Constitution men can be drafted without profits to the men who do the fighting as was done during the recent war, but the Constitution provides that just compensation must be paid to private property or capital."

Every Chrysler owner can profit by this rule:

For your motor's sake choose an oil that forms no hard carbon

THE whole Chrysler line, from haughty "Imperial" to saucy Plymouth, is a real automotive achievement.

Forward-looking people buy Chryslers—and are repaid many times over in thrilling Chrysler performance.

But any car can be ruined by carelessness. You can't run without water in the battery, or without grease in the transmission. You must keep your car lubricated, serviced, if you expect it to go on working faithfully.

And be sure that you understand this point about motor oil: All oils form some carbon when they burn. Yet some of the costliest ones form three to five times as much carbon. And, strangely enough, many of these costly oils leave hard carbon—a kind of sludge that cokes like cement inside your motor.

Shell Motor Oil forms only a very little soot that blows away easily with the exhaust gases.

Avoid oils that form gritty, coke-like carbon deposits. They'll cause you valve trouble. Bits of carbon will chip off and grind endlessly through moving motor parts. Glowing, red-hot "pills" will make your motor knock.

Why ask your car to perform against such odds? Give it a chance to keep free from hard carbon. Shell Motor Oil is sold by thousands of stations and garages. Insist that it go into your Chrysler.

THE PROPER OIL FOR CHRYSLER IMPERIAL IS SHELL MOTOR OIL "D." FOR ALL OTHER CHRYSLERS, SHELL MOTOR OIL "C"

FUNDING PARIS DEBT COMING UP

House Committee Today Will Consider Proposition

Some Trouble Anticipated in Senate Over Terms

Beckers, However, Argue They Can't be Bettered

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9. (AP)—Settlement of the French debt, the last of the war-time obligations due the United States except that of Russia, for which a funding plan has not been made, will be taken up tomorrow by the House Ways and Means Committee.

So far the soviet government has refused to recognize the Russian debt which was contracted before the overthrow of the Czarist regime, and thus the French obligation is the last of those regulated by the American Debt Commission, now extinct, awaiting action.

Approval of the plan which would provide payment of $4,025,000,000 over a period of sixty-two years, was asked by President Hoover in his annual message. Thursday, two days after the Executive's recommendations were read, Chairman Hawley of the committee introduced the bill.

FAVORED IN COMMITTEE
A similar measure is before the Senate, and Chairman Smoot of the Senate Finance Committee is awaiting action of the House before calling it up. The Senate group already has reported favorably on the bill by a unanimous vote.

The administration's strength in the House indicates quick passage in that body, but in the Senate considerable opposition to the plan is anticipated, its opponents contending that under the settlement the United States would receive only 30 cents on the dollar.

Regulated three years ago by debt commissioners of the two countries, headed by Secretary Mellon and former Ambassador Berenson, the terms were agreed on by the House, but the Senate delayed action until France had approved it. That action was taken by France on July 27, last.

ARGUMENTS MADE
Proponents of the settlement contend it represents the most that can be obtained from the debtor country, pointing to the narrow margin of 300 to 292 in the French Chamber of Deputies as evidence that France would refuse to pay any more.

Representative Cripp, Democrat, Georgia, a member of the American commission and Ways and Means committee, said at the time the bill was before the House, "It is this settlement, or a less amount, or none."

Representative Garner of Texas, minority leader and ranking Democrat on the committee, will oppose the settlement, but said he doubts the opposition in the House will be strong enough to defeat it.

Sale of Russian Bonds Upheld by Atty.-Gen. Webb

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 9. (AP)—The sale of prewar and war loan bonds of the Russian imperial government and the war loan bonds of the Kerensky government for speculative purposes was upheld in California today in an opinion by Atty.-Gen. Webb for Dist. Atty. Brady of San Francisco.

Brady questioned the right of brokers to sell these bonds under the provisions of the Corporate Securities Act, but Webb held that the United States maintained diplomatic relations with both the Czarist and Kerensky governments, that the bonds have been repudiated only by the soviet government, which never has been recognized by the United States, and that speculators, knowing of the repudiation by the soviet, buy the bonds at their own risk.

In cases where innocent buyers are "sold," Webb informed Brady that the sellers may be prosecuted on a felony charge of obtaining money under false pretenses, but not under the Corporate Securities Act.

POPE SEES EVIL IN NATIONALISM

Mission Representatives Told to Avoid It

Protestantism Declared Becoming Exhausted

Beatification of 136 English Martyrs Approved

VATICAN CITY, Dec. 9. (AP)—Pope Pius made two vigorous and important speeches on Catholic affairs yesterday, which were published today.

Addressing Catholic mission representatives, the Pontiff declared that they must strictly avoid nationalism because "nationalism is a real evil and it is not exaggerating to call it a malediction in the mission field."

He said that this should be well remembered by everyone from the humblest priest to the Pontiff himself. If in the beginning it seemed that nationalism gave certain advantages in the long run it would be found to be ineffective.

SEES CHURCH GAINS
"Those who work for God should never mix in secular affairs," he declared, quoting the authority of the Gospel to show that no man can serve two masters.

Finally the Pope recommended to the mission representatives Christ's last prayer on the cross as an example, and exhorted them to maintain the unity of heart, thought and action, wherein the force and secret of victory lay.

During the ceremony of reading approval of the beatification of 136 English martyrs, Pope Pius affirmed that Protestantism is "getting more and more exhausted" and has reached a point where "its own very sterility is inspiring many souls with a nostalgia for Catholicism."

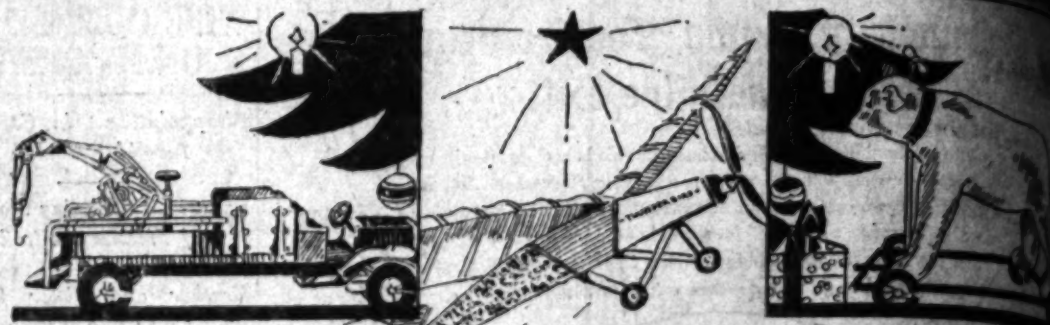

RETURNS INCREASE
He rejoiced that "returns to Catholicism are being multiplied ever more frequently."

"Behold Catholicism, which shines in the clear light, while Protestantism goes from denial to denial, rendering ever more intense in many souls that follow the imitation of truth a homesickness for returning to Catholicism," he said.

"It has sometimes seemed as though the ship of the church were in danger, but, instead, it has passed triumphantly on in the real course of culture."

OLD IRONSIDES TO BE READY TO FLOAT SOON

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9. (AP)—The frigate Constitution, undergoing restoration at the Boston navy yard through public subscription, is expected to be ready for the water again some time this month. The Navy has spent $475,000 in restoring the famous ship and has sufficient funds to continue work at the present rate until the end of the year at least. A total of $475,000 has been contributed. As soon as the hull is floated masts will be installed.

FEDERAL FARM BILL PRAISED

Agricultural Group Leader

Effective Help in Tariff Urge at Convention
Legge Tells Meeting Relief Plan Now Operating

CHICAGO, Dec. 9. (AP)—Indication that the government's farm program will be given the official approval of the American Farm Bureau Federation was seen today in the statement by President Sam H.
Thompson that "the policy declared in the Federal Agricultural Marketing Act is sufficiently broad."

Thompson's statement, made in his annual address, opened the first day's session of the federation. Alexander Legge, chairman of the Federal Farm Board, was another speaker.

"Members of the Farm Board are men of proven ability and are sincere in their efforts to secure equality for agriculture under the terms of this marketing act," Thompson said. "Their contact with the commodity organizations through which they are co-operating has won them the confidence and esteem of all the different commodity interests."

Thompson urged a tariff more effective for agriculture, adjustment of taxation, improvement of available rural credits, betterment of educational facilities, extension of farm-to-market roads, and curtailment of soil erosion.
The convention was told by Legge that the work of agricultural relief has been started and that the rest will be up to them. He added that "I may be kicked out and probably will."

NYE URGES FARMERS TO BACK FEDERAL BOARD
WASHINGTON, Dec. 9. (AP)—
Farmers were urged in the Senate today by Senator Nye, Republican, North Dakota, to rally to the support of the Farm Board in its "warfare" with the commission grain dealers, whom he charged with fighting the program for a farmer-owned and controlled marketing agency.

The North Dakotan, in supporting the position of Chairman Legge of the Farm Board, said that "with this warfare comes the real test for the Hoover administration."

to the marriage of her daughter, Princess Marie Jose, to Crown Prince Humbert of Italy. The court physician told her to take extreme care of herself. He emphasized her condition as not alarming. Other quarters said no anxiety is felt at her condition and it is felt certain

NAVY AIR BASE DELAY SIGHTED

Action on Kearny-Sunnyvale Fight May be Put Off
House Committee Head Says Added Inquiry Needed
Selection Possibly Will be Held Up for One Year

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Dec. 9. (Exclusive)—Action by Congress on the Navy Department's recommendation that Camp Kearny, near San Diego, be selected as the west coast dirigible base, may be delayed until the next session, a year hence.

This was indicated today when Chairman Britten of the House Naval Affairs Committee said that hearings will not be begun until after the holidays and that, in his opinion, a subcommittee should be sent to California to make a firsthand investigation before the full committee makes a report to the House.

The logical time for a subcommittee investigation, Britten said, would be during the Congressional recess, which will start next June or July on adjournment of the present session. The report could not be filed until Congress reassembles next December.

Britten also is said to have assured Representatives Free of San Jose and Welch of San Francisco, adherents of the Sunnyvale site, that Rear-Admiral Moffett, chief of naval aeronautics, will be given an opportunity to testify before the hearings are closed. And since Moffett is going to London in January as a delegate to the naval arms conference it is not likely he can be heard by the committee until after his return, which will be some time next spring or summer.

Moffett was head of the special naval committee which reported four-to-one in favor of the Sunnyvale site, only to be overridden by the Navy General Board and Secretary Adams.

The prospective delay in deciding the base controversy perhaps is unavoidable, but it fits in with the program of Northern California Congressmen fighting to upset the Camp Kearny selection. Representative Swing of El Centro, Representative Evans of Glendale and others championing the San Diego site, have asked immediate hearings and committee action upholding the Navy Department's choice of sites.

BAY CITY GROUPS PLEAD FOR SUNNYVALE
SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 9. (Exclusive)—The Board of Supervisors and the Central Council of Civic Clubs adopted resolutions this afternoon favoring Sunnyvale for the location of the west coast dirigible base.

The recommendation of Secretary of the Navy Adams for the Camp Kearny site at San Diego was deplored "as a dangerous precedent" and it was urged that "Central and Northern California and associated bodies should at once aggressively seek to fix the ultimate location of the proposed main naval dirigible base at Sunnyvale."

Newsprint Price Redress Sought

NEW YORK, Dec. 9. (AP)—A resolution calling on the paper committee and the board of directors of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association to take up with Federal authorities the question of whether there is any redress open in the newsprint situation through Federal action was adopted today at the special convention of the association called to discuss proposed increases in newsprint prices.
In the report of the paper committee, presented to the convention today, it was charged that the asserted combination of Canadian newsprint manufacturers which amounted to a monopoly had been carried out "through the good office of the provincial governments of Ontario and Quebec."

Funds Sought for Relatives of Dead Senators

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9. (AP)—
President Hoover has requested Congress to provide $10,000 each for the nearest relatives of three Senators who have died recently.
The sums would go to Mrs. Bellie H. McChesne Tyson, widow of Senator Lawrence D. Tyson of Tennessee; Miss Grace C. Burton, niece of the late Senator Theodore E.
Burton of Ohio, and to Mrs. Clara

Recovery of Previous

Opening Gains Wiped Out
Flood of Selling

Utility and Industry
Especially Weak

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—The recovery of stock prices from the setback today. Last week's movement was carried over into early hours of the session, but it-tailing, combined with heavy selling, poured into the market, creating volume as the market moved down, and turned the tide downward before the close.

The cross current of the session was the day's movement, comparatively large volume of 14,800 shares, compared with 114,800 Friday. Gains of 1 1/2 points among leading shares, including the market, were wiped out by the close. The high-priced industrial group was particularly heavy.

The reaction was marked by in Wall street, as the market grew ripe for a drop after week's unexpected rally. Despite the revival of optimism regarding business prospects, the market remained weak, and stock prices were generally lower at the close.

STEEL, RAILS
United States steel was up about 5 points during the hours of the session, but it was wiped out by the close. The market for the recovery at 1 1/2 to 2 points, but it was wiped out by the close.

In other words, the market was not as strong as it appeared to be. The market was not as strong as it appeared to be. The market was not as strong as it appeared to be.

COPPER MARKET HOLDING FIRM

Status Unchanged Despite Rumor of Weakening

Sales Slow as Consumer and Producer Deadlock

Zinc Sags; Lead Still Rules
at Former Level

BY CHARLES F. WILLIS
Editor The Mining Journal, Phoenix

In spite of many rumors to the contrary, copper holds strong at the 17.75 price L.O.B. refinery. Lead has held its price of 6.25 L.O.B. New York while zinc has again slumped and now stands at 6 L.O.B. St. Louis. The low price has produced zinc business but sales in copper have continued slow, with lead keeping up a fair average.

While a few sales of lead are being made for January shipment, the producers are unwilling to book business at the present price and are well satisfied with the business already on their books resulting from the last buying wave of the past two weeks. The present sales are largely for immediate delivery.

The drop in the zinc price brought in some business but not as much as was expected. The announcement of certain smelters that they were willing to book orders at 15 per cent. as far forward as February indicated that the present price was probably here to stay a while and that there was no hurry and no reason to load up over inventory.

The London price of zinc is the lowest that it has been in twenty years and it is felt that this condition will exert much influence on promoting an agreement among European producers as to the curtailment program.

While there is some talk regarding the possibility of the breaking up of the European zinc cartel on the 31st inst., general opinion is that it will be continued although the European price of zinc may go lower before all members see advisability of making concessions in order to hold it together.

Export business for October showed favorable for copper but poor for lead and zinc. Exports of copper from the United States in October totaled 24,277 tons as against 24,654 in September. Lead exports showed 5068 tons as against 7179 tons and zinc showed 6171 tons as against 6171 tons exported during October as against 1488 tons in September.

MARKET IN DEADLOCK
The copper market is in somewhat of a deadlock similar to what has occurred several times before. The producers state without qualification that the present quotation will hold until January no matter what the buying conditions may be. The consumers are firmly against making any commitments while the market is in an abnormal condition and are going to wait until a definite indication of the industrial trend.

It is not thought that there will be any active buying of copper for this month as the buying of September was large and, with the record rate of operation, the metal bought at that time will last over through the end of the year. Toward the end of the month, however, buying should get started for delivery in January and beyond. No price concessions are expected.

definite and authoritative announcements, it is stated that the producers had ordered further curtailment and that already several of the leading producers reduced their production schedules. One company is said to have ordered a cut of 25 per cent in mine output, but the average reduction is said to be from 10 to 15 per cent, which, including the curtailment ordered in the spring would bring a production rate of approximately 30 per cent under that of last April when the record was established, 37.75 tons per day in North and South America. The curtailment rate of production, if put into effect, and retained, would bring output down to about 27.75 tons a day early in the first quarter.

CRITICISM ABROAD
There continues to be loss of criticism coming from abroad against the United States copper producers and their price policies. If it were possible to create dissension among the producers it would help greatly to improve metal sales by European dealers.

Most of the criticism of the producers' price policies have emanated from European metal dealers whose business has not been what it was before Copper Exporters, Inc., was formed here in this country. Peculiarly domestic fabricators and consumers have not criticized producers much at their price policies. While American fabricators have mainly asked for a stability of copper price.

STOCK MARKET COMPLICATES
The present copper situation has one essential difference from the situation of last summer as it is complicated by the stock market collapse and it is not yet known whether the collapse came because of any fundamental or basic conditions in industry and several months may be passed before the trend of a recovery may be known.

During this period the fabricators are going to lay off buying just as far as possible, purchasing only that which may be needed for immediate delivery. They will also work over their scrap metal as they feel that the longer they can stay out of the market, the greater the possibility of a break in price.

While this will be a difficult situation with which to deal, it is one that is fundamentally the easiest to face, now that major producers, after years of investigation and study, have found that copper consumption cannot be increased appreciably by reduction in price.

Copper producers, unlike in earlier years, feel that the only way to face such a situation as the present is to bring production into step with actual consumption, and apparently none of the large producers feel that cutting price will help. Their facilities for gauging world consumption are so much better than only a few years ago that they should have no great difficulty in keeping production and consumption in balance. Curtailment under way, taking in conjunction with that earlier in the year, seems ample to deal with the situation.

Now that it's over—

▲▲▲ and American common sense is again in the saddle—let's look facts squarely in the face. Can anyone, with even a cursory knowledge of the intrinsic soundness of American business, have the temerity to defend the recent frenzy of the nation in condemning time-tested, dividend-paying securities to the shambles?

Call it a "debacle," or the shorter and uglier word "panic," the recent selling orgy remains the strangest, most senseless and disastrous exhibition of "mob psychology" in America's financial history. By comparison, "Black Friday," September 24, 1869, fades into utter insignificance.

Even the voices of captains of industry, shouting from the nation's battlements "ALL IS WELL WITH BUSINESS" were unheeded. It finally resolved itself into a rout as disastrous as that at Waterloo when, above the thunder of artillery, rose the tragic cry, "Save himself who can."

Now that the speculative fever has abated, the American people realize the hysteria that disturbed their peace and warped their judgment was wholly without warrant of facts.

There is not, nor has there been, any shortage of credit—any lack of adequate banking facilities—any impaired Federal Reserve System—any present or prospective crop failure—any dearth of markets to absorb manufactured products—any international complications—in short, nothing to excuse or palliate the financial madness that jettisoned judgment and crucified caution.

Fortunately, American common sense is converting this disaster into ultimate victory by purchasing securities at their present bargain prices. Let great American Investment Trusts assist you in taking advantage of present opportunities. Let us send you full information and tell you how they can serve you.

VALUES SOFTEN ON STOCK MART

To consider a split-up. It was learned, however, that only the regular meeting of the finance committee will be held tomorrow, and no directors' meeting is scheduled until late in January. The stock reacted and closed with a net loss of nearly 3 points.

Motors were given one of the most effective bullish whips in months. In what appeared to be a pre-auction show demonstration Coppers also were put forward at the expense of a large short interest. Gains in these groups, however, were moderate, and were reduced by the late reaction.

MONEY FIRM

Firming tendencies were again notable in the money market, and sterling exchange rose to the highest level in the past two years, with $4.68 3/4 quoted for cables. The beginnings of a gold movement to London appeared only to await advantageous circumstances, while the delays involved by the storms over the Atlantic apparently causing some hesitancy in completing transactions. Time money firmers, with funds moving at 4 3/4 to 5 per cent, against a flat rate of 4 3/4 late last week. Call money held at 4 1/2 per cent.

Stocks displaying pronounced heaviness included Allied Chemical, American Can, American and Foreign Power, American Telephone, American Water Works, A. M. Byrnes, Columbian Carbon, Eastman Kodak, General Electric, International Telephone, Simmons Standard Gas, Timken Roller Bearing, United States Freight, Western Union and Westinghouse Electric closing with losses of 4 to nearly 9 points.

Rails were largely steady to firm. Delaware and Hudson and Chesapeake and Ohio closed 4 and 3 points higher. Similar gains were scored by Atlantic Coast Line, Central, New York and New Jersey Motor and Transport, and 4 points each, only to be lost by the time the close came. Those were under the influence of late placing of a large lot of stock which had been sold at the market, but before the after moving up a point.

Auburn shot up 2 points, after a run the day before.

Commonwealth bank was weak with stocks. West coast about 3 cents, although such a drop was hardly appreciably small enough to bring down the price to 1 cent. The general report was fairly good, with expectations and favorable prospects being able to produce a rise in many cases to 12 1/2 and 15.

Outside of the heavy selling starting there was very little change in the prices of shares of electric, gas, oil and German metal companies, but all were lower than their gold prices.

NATURAL GAS—Invisible Gold of the Southwest

A Utility Romance: UNITED GAS COMPANY

From that great area known as Southwestern United States a torrent of real wealth is pouring forth—real wealth because it is a constructive torrent, influencing and molding the lives and fortunes of many thousands of people. It is Natural Gas—an invisible gold which, flowing through thousands of miles of steel pipes, brings comfort and utility into the home and economy and efficiency into the mine and mill. Its heating qualities are twice those of manufactured gas; and it can be produced and distributed at an exceptionally low cost.

United Gas Company, through its subsidiaries and associated companies, carries this invisible gold from the gas fields of the Southwest to hundreds of thousands of people in scores of thriving communities. This great public utility system serves hundreds of industrial plants with ever-increasing quantities of Natural Gas. Reserves in its operating area are sufficient to last for generations; even these are always being increased by purchases and developments. An experienced, conservative management has built along the line of Growth—a Super-Gas System.

Wounded Bandit Suspect Held and Police Report His Confession

BLOOD IN AUTO REVEALS TRAIL

Man Shot in Head Linked With Gun Battle

Tip from Physician Leads to Youth's Arrest

Gasoline Station Hold-ups Declared Admitted

While the police crime squadron of fifteen picked detectives was combing the city for the gunmen who engaged officers in a gun fight in the Wilshire district, Detective Lieutenant Packard, Stetson and James, late yesterday arrested Theodore Jerke, 21 years of age, and booked him as the bandit who Saturday night, battled a trio of detectives after holding up J. R. Hardy in a service station at Melrose avenue and Gardner street.

Jerke was taken in custody at his home, 1946 Harrington avenue, West Los Angeles, and after questioning at headquarters, according to Detective Packard, admitted not only the Saturday night hold-up but seven other service-station robberies committed within the past ten days.

CAN FURNISHES CLUE
The trail led to Jerke when a West Los Angeles physician reported that he had treated the man in a gunshot wound in the head, a bullet having entered the right temple and passed out through the left one, missing the brain by a narrow margin on its way.

This clue followed the finding, earlier in the day, of an apparently stolen car at Los Angeles and Pontiac streets, West Los Angeles. Theft of the car had been reported previously by Ed Smith of 1655 Culver street. Discovered by Officer W. W. Chynoweth, the car's front seat and windshield were splattered with blood, indicating at least one of the bullets struck the detectives had struck the bandit.

Following his arrest yesterday, Jerke was given further treatment at the Garfield Emergency Hospital, where surgeons reported his condition is not serious, and then booked him on suspicion of robbery.

STATEMENT MADE
Breaking down under questioning, according to Detective Packard, the youth stated he had turned bandit to satisfy insistent creditors after losing his job and that he had used his ill-gotten gains to pay his debts. He "pulled" his first job, he said, according to the officer, on the night of the last night, when he stole a car and held up five service stations; next day he paid out most of the stolen funds in liquidating old obligations.

The hold-up at Melrose avenue and Gardner street last Saturday night, Jerke is reported to have confessed, was preceded by the robbery of another station in the 3900 block on Sunset boulevard.

Jerke Saturday night, escaped from Detective Lieutenants James, Stetson and Leslie a few minutes after his second arrested robbery of the evening. While engaged in investigating the first hold-up, the officers found themselves witnessing the closing scenes of the second. All drew their revolvers, and Leslie and James leaped on the running boards of the bandit's car.

BROOK OFF OFFICERS
Through the muzzles of the detectives' guns were within a few inches of his head, the bandit suddenly threw his car into gear and swerved it to one side. James and Leslie were thrown off. As the suspect fled all three officers fired several shots at him. Three bullets struck the car, and one of them apparently pierced the vehicle and hit the suspect.

The gun battles in the Wilshire district yesterday morning are also believed to have resulted in the wounding of one or more bandits.

The fight began at Wilshire boulevard and La Brea avenue, where Officer B. C. Weaver, on the pursuit of a speeding sedan. The latter, traveling at about fifty miles an hour according to the officers, roared east on Wilshire boulevard. With the accelerator down to the floor board the car quickly drew up on the speeding machine. When within a block of the quarry the officers ran into a hail of bullets from the occupants of the car. Ahead, while Weaver drove Gilmore returned the fire.

AUTO IN CRASH
At Crenshaw boulevard the suspected bandit car swerved south. Gilmore made the corner with less speed but more control and was able to close up the distance again between the two cars. Suddenly the officers saw the car ahead swing into Twenty-first street, skid and

Suspends Jail Sentence for Man Who Brewed It as Medicine

Because John Demmel produced evidence to show that he operated a small whisky still for himself in order to relieve his physical condition, he escaped a jail sentence yesterday when he appeared before United States District Judge James.

He had pleaded guilty to possessing a still, but Federal dry agents said he was ill and not selling liquor. He was given a six-month suspended sentence.

When they pursued the machine occupants of the car suddenly opened fire upon them through an open rear window. With his partner at the wheel of the police car, Officer Collins returned the fire. The car, traveling at high speed, swerved into Rimpert boulevard. The police car followed. The chase then continued with intermittent firing from both sides south to Beverly street, west on Beverly to Coronado again, down Coronado to Eighth and west on Eighth street and ended abruptly when the police machine skidded and went out of control making the turn into Eighth street.

When the officers got their car under control again the suspects had vanished.

MEXICAN CHALUPE ON CHEF WYMAN'S MENU

Housewives who feel that they are in a rut with their cooking should attend The Times Free Cooking Class this afternoon and see Chef Wyman prepare Mexican chalupe—a nourishing and inexpensive dish that will prove very appetizing these cold days.

There are three attractive dinners on the menu: A sherry roast cake, cottage pudding and lobster pie. The lobster pie and cottage pudding are recipes but are dishes that every housewife should enjoy making. Then, for good measure, Chef Wyman will show how to make "tuch high" and the woman who learns how to prepare this will be sure that her holiday cake will be most attractive. There are no charges for The Times Cooking Classes. They are held at 2 o'clock on the third floor of the Southern Building, 130 South Broadway, and everyone interested in good cooking is invited to be the guest of The Times every Tuesday and Friday afternoon.

PILGRIMAGE PLAY PLANS ANNOUNCED

Building of New Theater Contingent on Drive for Fund of $250,000

Rebuilding, on larger and greatly improved lines, of the Pilgrimage Play Theater, destroyed in a brush fire that swept Cahuenga Canyon last October 24, will be undertaken immediately upon the raising of the fund of $250,000 for the purpose.

It was announced yesterday by Mrs. Robert J. Burdette, chairman of the committee for the restoration project in hand.

"Save the Pilgrimage Play" is to be the slogan of the campaign, Mrs. Burdette said, she pointed out that the annual performance of this sacred drama, which last summer completed its tenth consecutive season, has given Los Angeles fame as the American Oberammergau, and have established the play as a Southern California institution of international note.

"Interruption of the yearly performances of the Pilgrimage Play, because of destruction of the theater, would be an injury to the entire Southland and a cultural loss to the world," Mrs. Burdette said yesterday. "Many persons who have seen the Passion Play at Oberammergau, have declared that the Pilgrimage Play is a greater artistic achievement."

Its performances have enlisted some of the best dramatic talent of the county, and have drawn to Southern California visitors from every part of the United States and from abroad.

Temporary headquarters have been opened by the Pilgrimage Play Association at 508 South Spring street, where subscriptions will be received and information given. It is planned, according to Mrs. Burdette, not merely to restore the Pilgrimage Play amphitheater, but to enlarge greatly the seating capacity and to substitute concrete for the woodwork of the old structure.

C. Bridcott, Cunningham's trial was set for the 18th inst. before Superior Judge Wilson and the warrants against Bridcott were turned over to the fugitive detail.

PEACE IN DAM FIGHT SOUGHT

Taxpayers Would Mediate in San Gabriel Row

Want to Block Litigation of Contracting Concern

Eaton Back from Survey of Northern Structure

An offer of mediation between the County Board of Supervisors and the contractors for the San Gabriel Dam, condemned by the State Engineer, was made by the California Taxpayers' Association in a letter to the board yesterday.

The letter pointed out that settlement of the controversy out of court will save much time and will be far cheaper than litigation in the long run.

Representatives of the contracting company, Fisher, Ross, MacDonald & Kahn, have notified the Supervisors that they consider the abrogation of the contract by the board illegal. "Flood Control Council Dows" however, the board has an opinion that the cancellation of the contract because it is impossible to perform is a legal act.

It has been proposed to build a dam at the site of the old "forks" site in San Gabriel Canyon, maintained by experts too shattered by faults to support a solid concrete structure.

understanding and compromise for happiness," said Mrs. Burdette. "So much is to be learned from the study of the Pacific and the river, and the women."

INTERNATIONAL LAW
During the afternoon conference which was opened with a word of welcome from Mayor Long of Riverside, there were two discussions.

Dr. Frank E. Hinchley, lecturer in international law at the University of California, Berkeley, discussed tendencies toward establishing a permanent international court of justice. While there has been no such parliament formally set up, he pointed out, still, a great deal of work is being done along this line in the many conventions, treaties, and coming together of international groups to talk things over.

"As our relations with other nations multiply we must have more and more clear definitions of our intentions and our expectations, one nation of the other, in this great family of nations. This is the meaning of the many treaties and covenants between nations," said Dr. Hinchley.

Dr. Frank G. Wilson of the department of political science of the University of Washington, took up the codification of the international law of the Pacific. The international labor organization, he said, has not had as much publicity as the League of Nations, but it is doing a very important work. Its great mission is to perfect an international social code, a work which it is accomplishing by the adoption of the provisions for the eight-hour day, the forty-eight-hour week, in industry, free public employment agencies, the prohibition of employment of women during the night, or of children under 16 years of age in industry, and other measures.

CONSULAR DINNER
At the annual dinner given members of the Southern California Consular Corps tonight, the following were present: C. E. Wilson, Consul for Argentina; H. B. Livingston of the British Empire; P. Valdivieso, Chile; C. E. Roberts, Costa Rica; Frederick Walker, Guatemala; Francis Probst, Hungary; Toshiaki Satow, Japan; Alfonso Pesquera, Mexico; P. Walker, Nicaragua; Andrew A. Nelson, Norway; Andres Parrasi, Panama; Manuel D. Ayulo, Peru; Otto Wertenweiler, Switzerland; E. van Ouden, Denmark; Henri R. de France, and Siegfried Hagler, Germany.

The institute will continue tomorrow with afternoon conferences and evening lectures. In the evening, Kaj-Gren, Victor A. Yakhontoff, formerly of the Russian Imperial Embassy, will discuss the Russo-Chinese conflict, and Prof. D. A. Kory, founder of the Indian Women's University, will discuss social problems of India. The public is invited.

In the afternoon Miss Josephine Benson, vice-president of the Federation of Women's Clubs, and Francis Herrick, professor of European history, Mills College, will speak.

Self-Styled Women Reds Ask Jury Trial

A jury trial was demanded by two self-styled Communists charged with attempting to distribute Bolshevik circulars to students of the Roosevelt High School when they were arraigned before Municipal Judge Chambers yesterday.

The accused pair, Mary Baumert and Bernice Chitt, recently were taken into custody when they accompanied a group of asserted agitators who assembled at the doors of the school as the students were dismissed.

The jury trial was demanded by the women when City Prosecutor Nix indicated he would supplement a charge of violating the handbill ordinance with one of vagrancy against each of the accused.

EXTORTION CASE TRIAL LAUNCHED

Hart, Galusha and Weiner Face Judge on Charges of Plot to Get $5000

Charged with conspiracy to commit extortion, Thomas R. Hart, former Deputy District Attorney; Elton G. Galusha and Dr. Noah L. Weiner went on trial yesterday before Superior Judge Wood sitting without a jury.

The defendants are asserted to have conspired to get $5000 from Fred Reed, engineer and operator of a Hollywood sanatorium. According to the indictment, Hart, who had been retained by Reed as an attorney, told Reed he could be sent to San Quentin for violation of the Medical Practice Act unless he paid $5000. For this amount, Hart is said to have promised Reed that the "prosecution" would be quashed.

Reed, an inventor and creator of a new method for treating illness, occupied the stand all day. He told the system employed at his sanatorium and of his relations with the defendants.

Both prosecution and defense stipulated to try the case without a jury. The trial will be resumed today.

CHINA CLUB WILL MEET

The China Club of Southern California will have its monthly meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Isett, 922 Crenshaw boulevard, this evening. The club is working to bring about a more friendly understanding and practical co-operation between Chinese and Americans. It has its work divided into four sections: Religious, educational, commercial and international-governmental. Tonight there will be a symposium of the four sections conducted by both Chinese and Americans.

SUSPECT FACES ESCAPE CHARGE

Prisoner in Bank Robberies Declared Fugitive
Police Learn of Flight from
New Mexico Prison
Preliminary Hearing Here
Set for Tomorrow

Peter Marne, scheduled to appear for preliminary hearing tomorrow on charges of robbing two local branches of the Bank of America in 1927 and 1928, is wanted for escape from the New Mexico penitentiary at Santa Fe in 1922, according to Detective Lieutenant Ma-lina.

Information forwarded to Malina through the National Bureau of Identification at Washington states that Marne, under the name of Michael Mervik, escaped from the New Mexico prison by scaling the walls after he had served two years of a five to ten-year sentence for grand larceny.

Marne, according to local police,
is the bandit who robbed the Bank of America branches after constructing a system of mechanical concealment within the establishment.
In the first robbery, March 30, 1927, police found, they reported, that he had lived for a week in a narrow inclosure above the vault, sleeping in the day time and working on his contrivances at night. False arms and hands clasping dummy automatic pistols operated by an intricate system of pulleys were found rigged up to give the impression that a gang of bandits was engaged in the robbery. A similar machine was used in the second robbery. A total of $20,000 was obtained in both hold-ups.

Marne was taken in custody November 2, last, by Officers Quinn, Richardson, Hicks and Wilson, with a suit case containing various tools.
When the officers searched his room at 1023 Santa street he made a break for liberty and was shot as he attempted to jump over a fence in the rear of the house. He recovered from his wound at the General Hospital.

BLAME LAID TO DEVIL IN ARSON CASE

Man Arraigned as Firebug Asserts He Was Driven to Deed by Evil Spirit

Waiting preliminary hearing
Wilbur Totten, 35 years of age, of 1624 East Seventy-seventh street, yesterday was arraigned in Municipal Court on three counts of arson and bound over to Superior Court for trial.

Totten, a factory worker, was named in a complaint issued yesterday morning by Dep. Dist. Atty.
McLennan in which he was charged with having set three fires last week in the vicinity of his home.

In a statement taken at the office of the District Attorney, he is asserted to have admitted setting fire to a rabbit shed at the home of Andrew Dineen, 1624 East Seventy-sixth street, a shed in the rear of the home of Ernest Barnes, 134

AX WIELDER ROUTS MUTINEERS

Elderly Resident of Los Angeles Gets Official Confirmation of Story He Has Told for Years About Bloody Affair Half Century Ago

How he wielded an ax and thus helped to quell a mutiny aboard a three-masted schooner at sea off the coast of Bolivia nearly fifty years ago was recounted vividly yesterday by William F. Manning, 787 1/2 South Normandie avenue, who has just received the official report of the historic uprising from the office of the President of the Irish republic. The report recently was requested by the elderly survivor of the bloody fray, in order that his three daughters, also living in Los Angeles, and his two sons, residents of the East, might have a written confirmation of the harrowing tale he has told them since they were children.

Heading the call of the open sea, Manning ran away from home in Glasgow when he was 18 years of age and signed as an apprentice seaman aboard the British vessel Casswell, bound for South America. Lest his parents frustrate the adventure, he assumed the name of a school-days chum, William C. Ferguson.

With a cargo of nitrates the ship sailed out of Antofagasta, Bolivia, January 1, 1878, bound for Queenstown. The crew, besides the captain, two mates and steward, consisted of three Greeks, George Penn, Nicolas Morogotes, and Christos Bombos, two Malts, George and Giuseppe Pistoria, and five Scots, Carrick, Dunne, McGregor, McDonald and Manning, alias Ferguson.

"It appears that there had been some insubordination among the foreign seamen, especially on the part of the George Penn, whose captain had threatened to put in irons," reads the recital from the Irish Republic President's office.

"On January 4 the foreigners mutinied and murdered all four officers, whose bodies they threw overboard. The ship proceeded under their direction, the British crew members being kept under close supervision."

"On February 15, off the River Plate, the two Maltese brothers left the ship, taking with them part of the murdered captain's goods, arms and ammunition. The three Greeks were now in charge and the voyage continued."

"Certain incidents occurred subsequently which convinced the British consul at Buenos Aires, and on March 11 they seized an opportunity to overpower the Greeks. Big George and Morogotes were killed. Carrick, McGregor and the wounded, placed in irons. Carrick brought the ship to Queenstown, where he was tried at Cork Assizes and sentenced to hang."

James Arbuckle, Jr., son of the late James the Gracioso Arbuckle, M.C., former United States Ambassador to Bolivia, is dead in Buffalo, N. Y., according to word received here yesterday by his brother, Andrew Arbuckle, motion-picture actor, of 113 South Harper avenue. He died unexpectedly Sunday night, the telegram stated.

Like his other brother, Madry Arbuckle, star of "The Round-Up" and other memorable plays, Mr. Arbuckle was a stage actor, having devoted the latter years of his life almost exclusively to appearances at theatrical benefits for the Actors' Fund and other charitable causes. He was 40 years of age.

The father of the three actors, who was noted as a linguist, was knighted by the King of Spain for a series of essays written in seven languages. He was appointed Ambassador to Bolivia in 1921, coming to Los Angeles after retiring from public life. He died here five years ago.

He has two brothers, Andrew and Madry, who is living in retirement on his farm at Waddington, N. Y. Mr. Arbuckle leaves his widow, Mrs. Arbuckle of Buffalo, and a daughter, Miss Clyde Arbuckle of Los Angeles. Burial will be in the family plot at St. Louis.

Stores Take Up Christmas Seal Sales Campaign

To aid the Los Angeles Tuberculosis Association in its Christmas seal appeal a number of department stores have placed the seals on sale, according to Miss Sidney Maguire, executive secretary.

Seals may be purchased at the following stores: J. W. Robinson Company, May Company, N. H. Dryas Company, Bullock's, Broadway, Brock & Co., main postoffice and at the office of the Los Angeles Tuberculosis Association.

Funds raised through the Christmas-seal campaign enable the association to sponsor and maintain a number of health activities and wage an all-year intensive health-educational campaign to prevent tuberculosis. To consummate the 1930 program $100,000 is needed.

Film Director Pays Fine for Disturbance

Charged with drunkenness, William Nigh, motion-picture director, yesterday paid a $50 fine in Sunlight Court following his arrest in an apartment-house at 5217 Hollywood Boulevard by Officers Martin and Hastings of the Hollywood division.

Nigh was taken in custody as a result of complaints by tenants in the building. They stated he was creating a disturbance in the hall by knocking on doors of apartments where he was not known. Nigh gave his address as 720 North Bedford Drive, Beverly Hills.

RILEY PICKS MAN TO AID IN CAMPAIGN

Clem Whitaker Chosen as State Secretary in Drive for Governorship

Marking the opening of a State-wide campaign designed to reach into every county and community in California, State Controller Ray L. Riley, first announced candidate for Governor, yesterday appointed Clem Whitaker, Sacramento newspaper man, as State secretary of his campaign committee.

At the same time a Riley-Governor office was opened in Room 604, Washington Building at Third and Spring streets. Work of building a Riley organization in Los Angeles will be started immediately. Controller Riley said Whitaker will accompany him on his State tour, assisting in organization work, as well as directing the publicity activities of the campaign.

"Clem Whitaker, as a newspaper correspondent and as manager-owner of Capital News Bureau, has contacted State affairs intimately for the last twelve years," declared Riley's announcement. "He has a fine grasp of State government and by the nature of his work, has enjoyed a splendid opportunity to analyze trends in government which will constitute the fundamental issues of my campaign for the Governorship."

Whitaker has disposed of his news service and all newspaper connections, Riley stated, and will devote his entire time to the campaign.

Fronting a campaign characterized by "frank discussion of actual conditions, as opposed to theoretical conclusions," Whitaker predicted a clean-cut race between Controller Riley and Gov. Young.

Fatal Plunge of Pair at Hotel Laid to Accident

Verdicts of accidental death were reported yesterday by a coroner's jury at the inquest into the deaths of Gregory Woodford of 615 East Nutwood street, Inglewood, and of J. A. Purdy of 1014 North Main street, who were killed by falling from a seventh-story hotel window. The jury findings confirmed the previous report of the police.

The men were sitting in the open window of a hotel room with friends last Saturday night, exchanging remarks. Witnesses said that Woodford ended a humorous recital by giving Purdy a playful poke, which caused him to lose his balance and to fall through the window. At Purdy did so, his toe hooked under Woodford's knee, dragging the elderly-teller after him. They struck in a corner seven stories below.

Salvation Army Leaders Plan Work for Year

Officers from all corps in the Los Angeles-south coast division of the Salvation Army met yesterday afternoon and last night at the Santa Monica headquarters, Lincoln Boulevard and Broadway, to plan the work of the division, which was in charge.

Plans were laid for the coming year in the work of the army. The division has planned a $200,000 annual budget for the next two years, which outlay has been sanctioned by the western territorial headquarters under Commissioner Adam Clifford.

Yesterday's sessions had to deal with the Christmas dinner which was being planned for the various corps of the division. Dinner was served at 6:30 o'clock, followed by a public meeting addressed by Brigadier Bull.

How much better it will be this Christmas for you to decorate a living tree—either outdoors or indoors! Your outdoor Christmas tree, decorated and lighted, will be an ideal expression of the true Christmas spirit. Or, if you prefer to use your tree indoors you may do so. Later you can plant it outdoors where it will contribute beauty and good cheer for many years to come. A few dollars invested in a small tree now will in a few years result in a large tree—almost priceless in value.

ROTHSTEIN ACQUITTED AS FIRE BUG

Party Guests' Evidence Causes Judge to Dismiss Defendant in Arson Trial

Because of the good memories of guests at a party he attended on the night of a certain fire at 601 Rothstein was acquitted yesterday of arson after a week's trial.

Two of the witnesses for Rothstein were Mabel Hunter and Mildred Campbell. The fire occurred September 14, last, at 1006 Venice Boulevard, and city fire inspectors testified there was a connection between Rothstein, who had insurance on the property, and the woman, who set the fire. A bucket that had contained gasoline was introduced as evidence.

Superior Judge Sprunt, however, held the defendant was not guilty. Dep. Dist. Atty. Crall presented the case, and Attorney Dale Park appeared for defendant.

BUS-LINE PLEAS ARGUED TODAY

NEW PLUMBING ORDERED

The City Council yesterday directed that new plumbing fixtures be installed at the Lincoln Heights Jail.

PREACHERS' SONS GIVEN TITLE OF WORLD RULERS

"For argument's sake we will admit that one-third of the sons of preachers go to the devil, but let us submit the fact that the other two-thirds rule the world," said Dr. Daniel Rittenhouse, pastor of First Baptist Church of Pasadena, in an address yesterday before 200 Methodist preachers at First Methodist Episcopal Church.

Offering the records of ministers and their families "as a study in eugenics," Dr. Rittenhouse began by contrasting the notorious Jones family with the Edwards family.

The 540 descendants of Max Jones were murderers, thieves, diseased persons and paupers, and then cost the country more than $1,000,000," said the speaker. "Dr. Jones had 1284 descendants, hundreds of them college graduates, professors, doctors, ministers and government officials, and not one of them ever convicted of a crime."

"Leaders in all trades and professions in America are from ministers' families," said Dr. Rittenhouse. "Of the 26,888 names in Who's Who, 3413 are preachers and 1088 are ministers' sons."

Four of our twenty-nine Presidents have been sons of preachers. In France the sons of ministers for the last 200 years have been the chief contributors to science. The record of ministers of England is so good that all the money spent on them would have been well invested if it had served no other purpose than to give them an opportunity to raise sons.

"The power of preaching is not eloquence or learning, but God-consciousness," said the speaker. "Preaching is an attempt to get men to see life through the eyes of Jesus Christ. The need of the preacher today is not more education or more salary, but more soul. Today it is not 'the cloth,' but character that is respected and the people want someone who is through with consecrated manliness."

ENGINEERS TO DISCUSS AQUEDUCT

Colorado River Project Listed as Chief Topic for Meeting Tomorrow

The Colorado River aqueduct is to be the main subject before the local branch of the American Society of Civil Engineers at its annual meeting in the City Club tomorrow at 6 p.m.

Vice-President Franklin Thomas of the Metropolitan Water District, which is to build the water line, is scheduled as the principal speaker.

Walter Gordon Clark, an engineer, who privately has evolved a plan for bringing the water from the river via tunnel and by gravity flow, is a second speaker on the program.

Just who the other speakers will be appears somewhat problematic last night.

President Walter E. Jessup, of the local branch, said he originally thought to have on the program Chief Engineer Frank E. Weymouth of the district; E. C. LaRue, an engineer, who has evolved a plan for bringing the water here by gravity aqueduct; Paul Bailey, formerly State Engineer, and Clark.

Weymouth, declined, explaining that "inasmuch as the district now is considering engineering and legal data involved in several different plans and routes for the aqueduct, it seems best not to appear in public discussion of the matter."

Bailey, Jessup said, declined because he was State Engineer at a time when the State gathered data on such a plan and as this data shortly is to be made public by the present State Engineer, he does not wish to disclose it in advance of its publication by the present official.

LaRue declined, he said, when he learned that the other two would not appear.

Election of officers and other business of the branch will be discussed at the meeting, which is to begin with the annual banquet.

Fruit Importer's Wife Granted Divorce Decree

Mrs. Clare Florence yesterday was granted a decree of divorce from Hanson Ray Florence, fruit importer of Santa Monica, by Superior Judge Westover at the close of a contest lasting several days.

She was also given $200 for attorney fees. On her death the interest in the residence property is to go to two sons of the defendant.

Cruelty was the charge the wife made in her complaint.

Patent Medicine Peddler Minus License Fined

Accused of peddling patent medicine without a license, Dan Chandler was fined $250 in Municipal Judge MacCoy's court yesterday.

Through Inspector Bentley it was shown Chandler carried a large quantity of remedies at his home, 515 Towne avenue.

HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY 1520

The Story of the World War 290—Fighting Along the St. Quentin Canal.

by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

SEPTEMBER 26, 1918, FOUNDED THE 27TH AND 30TH AMERICAN DIVISIONS IN LINE WITH THE BRITISH ALONG THE ST. QUENTIN CANAL AT A POINT ABOUT 12 MILES SOUTH OF CAMBRAI AND 8 MILES NORTH OF ST. QUENTIN, WAITING TO TAKE PART IN GENERAL HAIG'S GREAT ATTACK ON THE HINDENBURG LINE.

IN FRONT OF THE AMERICAN LINES THE ST. QUENTIN-SCHIEDT CANAL PASSED UNDER A RIDGE, THROUGH A TUNNEL 3 MILES LONG. THE GERMANS, WITH THEIR USUAL INGENUITY, HAD TURNED THE TUNNEL INTO A VAST DUGOUT, AFFORDING SHELTER TO ABOUT 14,000 MEN WITH PASSAGEWAYS LEADING TO THE TRENCHES.

ON SEPTEMBER 27 THE 106TH U.S. INFANTRY
ATTACHED AND CAPTURED THE KNOLL, GUILLE-MONT FARM AND QUINNEFONT FARM, STRONG
GERMAN OUTPOSTS IN FRONT OF THE TUNNEL.
ON THE 29TH HAIG LAUNCHED HIS MAIN ATTACK FROM CAMBRAI TO ST. QUENTIN.

AT THE SOUTHERN END OF THE TOWN, THE 30TH U.S. DIVISION ENTERED AND WENT THROUGH THE MINDENBURG LINE, CROSSING THE CANAL AND TOOK THE VILLAGES OF BELLEVILLE AND NALROY, A GAIN OF 5,000 YARDS. BUT IT HELD AGAINST VICIOUS GERMANY ATTACKS. THE GERMANS... THE STRONG... THE STRONG...

MORE SAN FERNANDO FEUD VICTIMS HUNTED BY POLICE

Search for more bodies of persons believed slain in the Mexican family feuds of San Fernando, which wrought the destruction of the entire five members of the Alvarez-Garcia family, was ordered last night by Capt. Bright, chief of the Sheriff's homicide division.

Cap. Bright ordered the search on information obtained from neighbors of Lola Dolores Guichapa, held in connection with the Alvarez-Garcia murders, that at least one man is asserted to have disappeared from the vicinity of her home.

her sweetheart, Armando Bolares, asserted confessed slayer of the five Alvarez-Garcias, and Capt. Bright asserts that while Bolares says the woman plotted the five deaths in the feud, she may know the fate of the unidentified man who is reported to have disappeared near her home. She refuses to talk, however, and sits stolid and silent in the County Jail.

Deputy Sheriff Sepulveda and Malendres today will undertake a thorough investigation of the disappearance of the man and probably will excavate in the vicinity of the woman's former home, if the inquiry warrants, Capt. Bright says.

Revolt Threatened by Iowa Alumni

PROTEST MADE BY OLD GRADS

Ouster of Hawkeyes Brings More Rumblings

Former Alumni Board Head Touches Off Bombshell

Prexy Jessup and Athletic Body Attack

CHICAGO, Dec. 9. (AP)—Rumblings of an alumni revolt against the present administration of the University of Iowa because of conditions in its athletic department which resulted in the ouster from the Western Conference of the Hawkeyes, grew louder and more ominous today.

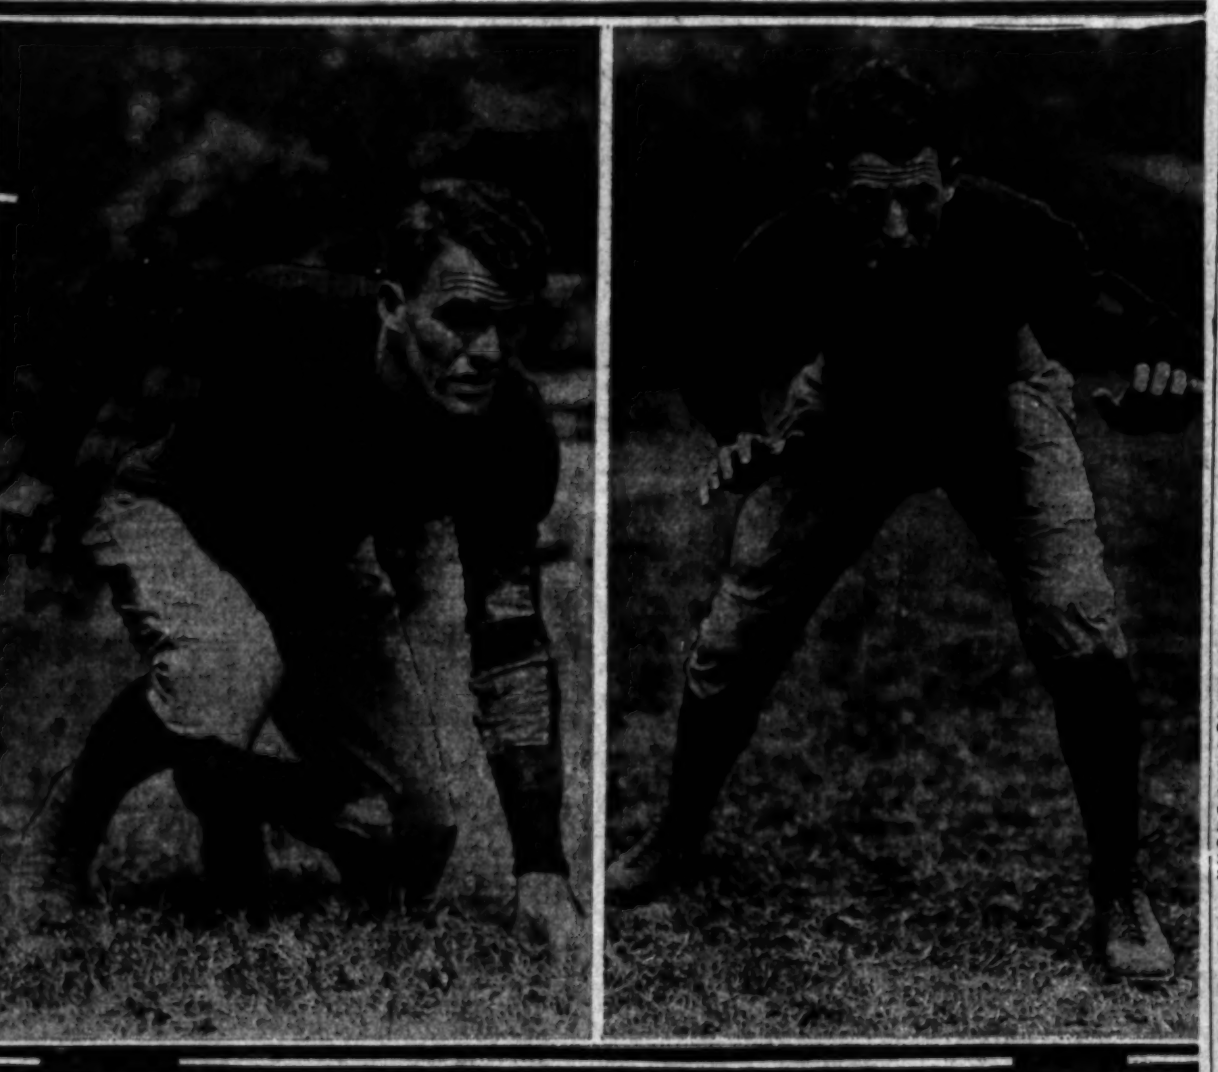

Superior Court Judge M. L. McKinley of Chicago, former head of the Iowa Alumni Association, touched off a bombshell by openly attacking President Walter Jessup and requesting the Iowa State Board of Education to investigate not only the athletic department, but also the "cause of dissension and discord that has existed in the department of the university other than athletics."

"It is now time for the alumni to speak out," Judge McKinley said. "The ouster of Iowa is no longer an athletic matter. It ceases to be exclusively a university matter. It now becomes a matter that affects the reflection every alumnus of the university, wherever located, as well as every citizen of the State of Iowa, whose taxes support that great institution."

Ever since the Western Conference faculty committee voted last May to sever athletic relations with the Hawkeyes, effective January 1, many Iowa alumni have been condemning the actions of President Jessup, whom they charge with "bungling" the matter. But until now the alumni of this

Spent two hours yesterday reading up on the record of this Carnegie Tech football team which is now on its way here to play Southern California in the Coliseum Saturday afternoon. BELL BUSY ON BORDER GOLF LINKS

Veteran Architect Puts in Final Work on Course at Agua Caliente

BY EDWARD LAWRENCE

AGUA CALIENTE, Dec. 9.—William P. (Bully) Bell, dean of Southern California golf course architects, is busy engaged in putting the finishing touches on another classic layout for the Agua Caliente Golf Club, which on January 14, 1930, will be the scene of the world's richest golf tournament, a $25,000 opening, with a first prize of $10,000.

The border championship has been scheduled by the Los Angeles Junior Chamber of Commerce to climax the outstanding series of mid-winter golf championships yet to be attempted on the Pacific Coast.

From what I can gather—and the dope seems to be authentic—the Tartans have a complicated, rambling type of offense that is the most difficult in the world to successfully defend. Which means that Howard Jones and his athletes are having their worst time at Howard Field this week as they toil against Cliff Herd's Spartans, who are pretty well versed in Carnegie Tech formations. This type of attack always supplies plenty of thrills.

The Tartans use a man in motion much of the time. Frequently this chap starts one way, then jogs back and while he's cutting capers the ball is snapped and the play gets under way. Sometimes two men in motion are employed.

UNORTHODOX STYLE

Steffen's team does one of the most unorthodox things in football—the players often reverse their field behind the line of scrimmage. This is not so unusual in the open, but pulling it behind the line is something new.

All this stuff is in line with the axiom of Horace I. Harper, all-American quarterback of the Tartans last year—"Full something unexpected." Harper has been writing for a Pittsburgh paper this year and in all his years he has stressed this feature. The former Tech star claims his team won many victories last year because he wasn't afraid to take a chance and do what the other fellow thought was impractical. Along this line it is said that Tech

ROACH GIVES UP POLO CAREER

Sale of Ponies Announced by Promising Midweek Player As He Leaves for East; San Mateo Performer Expected to Take Place on Purple Team

BY FRANK BOCHIE

For reasons best known to himself, Hal Roach has quit polo. The young motion-picture magnate, who is now on his way to New York, announced yesterday that he had arranged for the disposal of his $40,000 string of ponies.

Roach's withdrawal from the game is considered quite a blow to local polo, as he was counted on to figure in considerable action at the Midweek Country Club during the coming midwinter high goal tournaments.

Roach was one of the leading figures in Midweek and Uplifters' matinee circles during the past three years. Although a left-handed player, he had attained considerable prominence in west coast competition. Roach had a three-goal rating, being good enough to play in high-goal classics. He rode as a member of the revamped Midweek Big Four last season during some of the big games in which the Purple club took part. He captained the Uplifters' team during the summer polo season. He was the Uplifters' official representative to the United States Polo Association meetings.

In announcing that his string of mounts was on the block, it was also stated that several of his favorite ponies had already been sold to Will Rogers and C. B. Wrightman. Roach has collected a number of fine trophies for games won by teams that he captained.

SAILORS OF FLEET VIE FOR "TIMES" PLAQUE TROPHY

SAN PEDRO, Dec. 9.—The first of the two sailing regattas held each year in the battle fleet for The Times' plaque will today be fought out over triangular courses on San Pedro Bay by entries from each of the battlefleets. Regulation rigs will be used in the motor-launch and whaleboat events, held this morning, but in the free-for-all race, to get under way at 1 p.m., everything from the old-time spritsail to the modern Marconi racing rig will be broken out by the little wind-jammers. Outstanding among the freak entries is that of the U.S.S. Mississippi. It will be an ordinary navy raceboat with a Marconi sloop rig.

All three events will be sailed over a six-mile triangle, once around. The final regatta for The Times trophy will be sailed next Monday. It will be an ordinary navy raceboat with a Marconi sloop rig.

MAJOR LEAGUERS GATHER

New York Meeting Opens Today; Ed Morris, Vance, Grimes, Frisch, Goslin in Trade Rumors

BY BRIAN HELL

Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 9. (AP)—Some major-league baseball players may have suffered from certain shortcomings during the last playing season but they are quite all right now. Club owners of the National and American leagues came here today for the annual league meetings tomorrow and most of them would like to do some baseball trading if it could be arranged to their advantage. Every player offered on the auction block is good. For three days there will be no poor players in either league.

The National and American leagues will meet tomorrow and Wednesday with a joint meeting of the two majors Thursday.

There are indications the major-league season will be curtailed by a week and radio broadcasters may be asked not to bring their microphones with them when they attend the ball games.

John D. Heydler, president of the National League, still thinks his ten-man team is a good one, but probably will not advocate it again since the clubs thought nine players were enough when it was

VANE BAKER LEAVES STATE

Vane Baker, national Junior Olympic Games champion in the junior division, left yesterday for South America with his parents to make his home in Buenos Aires. Vane has been a student at Huntington Park High School and is one of the most remarkable young athletes ever developed in Southern California. His departure means that next year's Junior Olympic Games competition—announcement of which will be made in The Times early next month—will be wide open to all contenders inasmuch as the other three winners of 1929 titles, Jerry Deal, Robert San Jose and Fernando Ramos, are all ineligible for further competition.

Cecil Payne Makes

NEWCOMER HAS GREAT RECORD

Louisville Boxer Recently Beat Bushy Graham

Ocean Park Flash Has Been Year's Sensation

Society Red Millett Lends Comedy to Program

Cecil Payne, star junior lightweight, fresh from a win over Bushy Graham at Louisville, faces the best opposition Los Angeles has to offer tonight at the Olympic.

The Blue Grass kid meets Goldie Hess, who goes down in the fourth round of the fight at the Olympic.

The 22-year-old youngster from the famous Derby City has pulled himself up to an even money bet by his spectacular showing at his gymnasium work.

A week ago the name of Payne didn't mean as much as a pain in the neck. He was a brand-new name—anybody had heard about him unless they happened to be a subscriber to a Louisville newspaper.

The West has never paid much attention to fighters from the Dixon and Dixon line. However, some of the best have been nurtured on Southern hillsides and cottonwood and maple molasses.

Martin Hart, who was born in Jefferson county, Kentucky, once fought for the heavyweight championship of the world and knocked out Jack Root with Jim Jeffries refereeing the contest.

Ed Herman, one of the best boxing champions, was a New Orleans bookmaker. He now lives in the Crescent City of the tropics. Palmetto, unknown champion of the bantams, is a native of Memphis.

Flowers from Dixie Tiger Flowers, who came out of a Georgia church to win the middleweight championship of the world, was a great fighter. Dixie Kid, for whom a benefit was held on Central avenue last week, came from Fulton, Mo.

The South has not been without its stars of the ring. Cecil Payne is no exception. A year ago he won the featherweight championship of Dixie and is now fighting heavier.

Just before the Graham win, Payne defeated Dixie Zivie, Billy Shaw and Tommy Cohan in successive weeks. The young newcomer is not without recommendations. He drew with Kid Francis as a feather and also held Chick Seng to a draw in a bout when Seng was on his great winning streak.

But the best test of the Kid from the Blue Grass is that he has looked so good in the gymnasium. A lot of smart boxing men want to get on him to beat Hess.

Anyone who can take Hess is a fighter.

Hess miracle boy Hess has been the miracle boy of California rings in the last few days of the calendar. He defeated Santiago Zorrilla, Ted Morgan, Gaston Carlier, drew with Billy Taylor and knocked out Wildcat Carter. His one defeat as a big-time came at the hands of Eddie Mac Match, Mac and Hess now are tied and even money.

The Olympic tonight is showing Society Red Millett in an added feature bout. He boxes Marion Mack. Society Red has more tricks in a ring than old "Bugs" had on homeback at a rodeo.

If Red doesn't make a boxing fan laugh then things must be pretty bad. He was put on the card due to hundreds of requests.

Ted Snyder is rubbing for William Johnson in the semi tonight against Wally Fraz. Johnson is sick. Snyder has been making good fights and the semi is a promotion for the big fellow, who can hit fairly well.

Ted Snyder, star flyweight from Denver, makes his debut in the postwar with Leonard Rahming. The two fours are Jimmy Fuchs vs. Tommy McGough and Archer Donovan vs. Jimmy O'Neil.

Stand Closer to the Ball

YOU STAND NEARLY THE BALL FOR A PITCH

VENUE THE SWING IS MORE COMPACT

CHICK EVANS GO PITCHED

BY SOL METZGER

What is meant by a compact swing? Note Chick Evans, sketched at the top of his swing for a pitch, and we'll attempt to explain it. First, Chick is much nearer the ball than if he were playing a wooden shot. Second, his swing is abbreviated. Third, there is little body pivot. Fourth, there is no sway. Fifth, his feet are much closer together than for the longer shot.

In short, the golfer playing a pitch gives no evidence of making a great distance and he is after the shot is played completely.

That's why your pitching iron has shorter shafts than your wooden clubs. Manufacturers are doing all they can to aid you in playing the pitch correctly. Naturally, with a shorter shaft you have to lean over a bit more in addressing the ball, and that permits you to place yourself closer to it.

Great golfers are great drivers. Improve your drive by sending stamped, addressed envelope to Sol Metzger, care of The Times, and requesting his free booklet on driving.

ROACH QUILTS POLO CAREER

Roach was a member of the California four captained by Eric Pothly that defeated the Australian team last spring in the first annual California Cup series sponsored by the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce.

Currier Burke, leader of west coast polo and captain of the Midwick Big Four, declared yesterday that the game will keep the team of Roach and that he himself would be back in the field again next year.

Landay Howard, San Mateo, star, will not doubt take Roach's place in high-goal polo at Midwick this winter. Howard has transferred his string of polo from the north to Midwick and he will take part in the games against the Argentine team which are scheduled for the latter part of next month. The Argentine players' string of fifty-five ponies will arrive here Thursday.

In making the announcement of Roach's retirement from the game, his studio stated that the motion picture producer found he could no longer devote time to his polo activities. The year 1930 will be taken up with his motion-picture work.

Class Pigskin Tilt Tomorrow

Marion "Patches" French and Cliff Simpson, star center and quarterback, respectively, on the varsity football team of the University of California at Los Angeles this past season, will put the finishing touches on the senior class football team that they have been coaching for the annual grid classic between the two upper classes in the final practice session.

The traditional game will be played tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock on the Westwood field.

SONNENBERG SURE OF WIN

Gus Says He Will Beat Joe Stecher in Forty-five Minutes; Matmen Clash Tomorrow Night

"Joe Stecher will be lucky if he can hit with a tackle, as he did in our last match, or if he is able to get a body scissor on me. He will have to use some entirely new holds and new tricks if he even hopes to stay in the ring for forty-five minutes. They will have to carry him out of the ring, feet first, at the end of that time."

That, in short, is Champion Gus Sonnenberg's opinion of his chances to stop Stecher, the Nebraska giant, when they clash at the Olympic tomorrow night.

Chicago 'U' Five Hounds on Defense

THIS STANCE PERMITS YOU TO SHOOT IN ANY DIRECTION WITHOUT LOSS OF BALANCE

TO SHOOT FORWARD

LATERALLY

BY SOL METZGER

The Chicago University basketball team is hounds on defense. Some teams are that way. They may be beaten but never by disgraceful scores. Others sputter attack and probably have more success, just as do football teams that give offense the preference.

Defensive principles are much the same in basketball. The main individual idea—and defense is mostly a man-to-man affair these days—is to keep between the man you are assigned to cover and his basket. As long as you are in front of him it stands to reason he's not going to score.

To do this to perfection the defensive player must at all times have perfect balance. He must be able to move forward or backward or to either side of forward or to the rear. Note, too, the spread of his arms. That's the theory of defense. The practice consists of keeping one eye on your man and the other on the ball; and in being able to maintain balance when moving at top speed.

Millionaires and Oilers in 2-2 Tie Game

After one of the hardest-fought games staged in the Winter Garden Palace this year, the Hollywood Millionaires and the L. A. Richfields battled to a 2-2 tie last night in a California Los Hollywood League game.

After the regular game time limit had elapsed, the score was knotted at 2-2, so the referee ordered an overtime period. The Hollywood Millionaires, led by their captain, failed to score in the extra session, the nearest attempt coming when Red Bromberger of Hollywood hit on the head near the Richfields' goal.

Lake Arrowhead Valley puck chasers defeated the Van Fleet-Durkee outfit 3-2 last night at the Palms de Glace in a Southern California senior amateur league game. Both teams were tied in the first period. Van Fleet-Durkee rallied first in the second session when Howard sunk a long shot. Jeber tied the score for Arrowhead in the same period. JACKRABBITS TO STAGE CONTEST

Santa Barbara May Protest Location of Tilt

Tornado Officials Want to Stage Game at Home

Both Elevens in Fine Shape for Title Battle

BY IRVING ECKHOFF

Unless two or three persons change their minds, the finals of the C.I.F. football play-off for the Southern California prep title between Long Beach and Santa Barbara will be played Saturday afternoon on the J a c k rabbits' field.

San Van Paten, director of athletics for the C.I.F.S.S., announced last night that as far as he was concerned, Long Beach would stage the game on their home field Saturday.

Conflicting reports come from Santa Barbara, one saying that they will "protest vigorously" the game being played in Long Beach and another stating the northern school would abide by any decision made by Van Paten.

Tornado coach, would like to stage the game either this week-end in practice this week, both elevens should be at their top forms Saturday.

Al Grigsby, the Tornado's interfering back, played the Fullerton game with an injured shoulder. However, Pete Fools, Santa Barbara trainer, announced yesterday that Grigsby's ailment was in good shape and coming along fine.

San Barbara's record:

TECH OFFENSE COMPLICATED

Carnegie Team Slated to Give Trojans Real Battle in Coliseum Saturday

It behooves the Trojans to get a good start against Tech Saturday. And that's one point which has Headman Jones worried, for the Trojans have not been a good first-quarter team this year by a long shot.

I say the Trojans must get a good start, for Tech's record shows that many of her players are much older than Jones' athletes and if once ahead they have the football knowledge to coast through to victory.

OFF TO POOR START

Tech got off to a poor start against Pittsburgh in the game which the Panthers won, 34 to 12. Pitt scored twenty-one points in the first quarter—three touchdowns and a safety. Two Pitt fumbles, recovered by Tech players, brought two of the touchdowns, and a bad pass from center made the safety possible.

The dope is that "Dutch" Eyth, slippery halfback, is a brilliant ball carrier, a man of terrific speed around the ends. It's a good thing Troy has an all-American wingman in Tappan and another willing worker in Arbelbide, for Eyth, according to all reports, is a trail blazer of no mean ability. In fact, what I read of him places unless some one gets hurt in the game either this week-end in practice this week, both elevens should be at their top forms Saturday.

San Barbara's record:

him in a class with such speed

Rosenzweig, end, who received all-American consideration last year when Carnegie was rated a great team, is called one of the greatest pass receivers in the game. No doubt Jones' backs know this and will be on their guard.

Karcis, the 225-pound fullback, is just plain dynamite at backing up a line. He hit the New York University backs so hard that Chick Mehan's players committed eleven fumbles, a season's record in the East.

Karcis has been laid up a good deal this year, but came back against the Wolves to paralyze Mehan's ball carriers. The big fullback runs terrific interference for Eyth on the little halfback's sweeping runs around the ends. Karcis is a speedy runner and once in the open they say it takes "two men and a ball bat to bring him down."

STEVEN SCOUTED

Judge Steffen is one up on Jones in the matter of scouting. The Tech coach saw Southern California play Notre Dame in Chicago and is declared to have said: "The Trojans will have to do better than that if they are going to defeat us." Jones has not seen Carnegie in action, but Aubrey Devine did—watching the Tarantula play Notre Dame in that 7-to-0 game where the Irish got inside Tech's 30-yard line only once and that when Karcis got off a poor punt which went straight up in the air.

In parsing it might be mentioned that Carnegie Tech's defeat this year came at the hands of two of the greatest teams in the nation—Pittsburgh and Notre Dame. The Trojans are also twice beaten, which ought to make Saturday's game an even bet until it gets under way.

San Barbara's record:

A CHUCKLE FOR EVERYBODY

THE SON OF TARZAN

By Edgar Rice Burroughs GASOLINE ALLEY

Play Safe

The killing of the Numbler by his great trained ape was a time days' wonder to all London. The papers were filled with the mystery when no trace of the missing animal could be found. But, as usual, other news soon caught the public's attention—and everyone forgot the matter. All but Tarnan of the Ape, who, after futile search for his son, realized that in some way Akut was connected with Jack's disappearance.

Just as an African-bound liner was about to sail, two last-minute passengers came aboard. One evidently was an old lady, heavily veiled, and so weakened by the infirmities of age she had to be wheeled up the gangway by a young man who stated the invalid was his grandmother. The youth would permit no one to assist him to their stateroom, and, during the long voyage, that was the last seen of the old lady until they disembarked.

The supposed grandson insisted upon doing the steward's work inside their cabin, saying the presence of strangers was more than the senile old lady could stand. Outside the cabin—and note there was who knew what he did inside—the youngster was just as any other healthy, normal boy. He mingled with the passengers, and became a favorite with the officers and men. But to the polite curious questions concerning his "grandma" he was oddly silent.

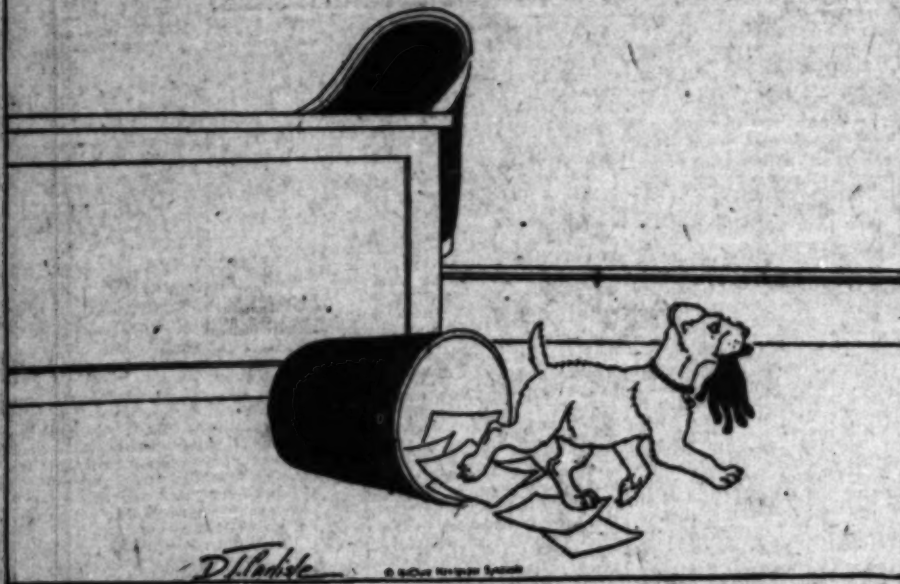

Among the passengers who sought the boy's acquaintance, with the least success, was a noted crook "wanted" in a dozen countries. He had paid little attention to the youth until one day he had seen him accidentally display a large roll of bank notes. From that moment the noted blackguard schemed to find means of transferring that money to his own pocket. Clever as he was, he had been unsuccessful up to the day they landed on the African Coast.
